

JUVENILE COURT FUND BECOMES NEW PROJECT OF COUNTY WOMEN

Establishment of a juvenile court fund was adopted as this year's project of the Adams County Federation of Women's clubs at a meeting held at the YWCA, Gettysburg, Wednesday evening. More than 100 women representing the Gettysburg and Littlestown Women's clubs were in attendance. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Clayton L. Evans, Littlestown, president of the county federation.

The federation allocated $25 to start the fund. This sum will be augmented through various projects to be sponsored during the year. The fund will be made available to the county juvenile court for use at the court's discretion for such juvenile needs as are not otherwise provided for.

Establishment of the juvenile court fund as the project of the year was presented by the federation president, Mrs. Evans, and Mrs. R. S. Saby, Gettysburg, chairman of the youth conservation and welfare committee of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs, spoke in behalf of the project.

Lauds Court's Record

Mrs. Saby praised the work of the Adams county juvenile court and expressed the faith of the county federation "in whatever Judge Sheely suggests in behalf of the work and the charges of the court." Mrs. Saby told the clubwomen that Judge Sheely said he would welcome the active cooperation of a committee of three women, representative of the county, to assist in fulfilling the needs of the juvenile court that are not now provided otherwise.

Dr. Kenneth L. Smoke, head of the psychology department of Gettysburg college, the speaker of the evening, advanced seven points requisite to lasting world peace.

The program of constructive measures that is imperative to lasting peace was set forth by Dr. Smoke as follows:

Steps Toward Peace

1. Utilization of all educational agencies in the nation for thinking along international lines.
2. Adoption of active measures toward improvement of mental health.
3. Make democracy work at home.
4. Assumption of democratic world leadership on a non-partisan basis.
5. Reduction of ideological conflicts.
6. Continued efforts to provide high standard of living for as many people as possible.
7. Support of the United Nations' effort toward some type of world federation.

LITTLESTOWN JOINT SCHOOL BOARD MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the executive board of the Littlestown Joint School System was held in the office of Supervising Principal Paul E. King, with president, H. Allen Walker, presiding.

Prof. King's report listed the various school activities of the last month. In observance of Pennsylvania week, he said, grades 11 and 12 visited four factories of the town on September 29 and the same day a representative of the Department of Highways addressed the student body on Pennsylvania highways. A very successful magazine sales program is being conducted throughout the Junior-Senior high school for the benefit of school athletics.

Three employment certificates were granted during the month. Two teachers were absent one day each because of illness with substitutes serving in their places. Mr. King explained to the board members the by-laws and purposes of the newly formed Athletic Council of the school, adding that the Council has approved the starting of a Junior high football team for which equipment has been purchased and practices started this week under the (Please Turn To Page 3)

SEEK MISSING BROTHER

Borough police today were asked to assist in locating Roy Kerchner, a brother of Mrs. Maude Kerchner Garrety of York, who died in that city Wednesday night. Kerchner was believed to have lived in or near Gettysburg. The family said they had not heard from him in several years. Persons having any information were asked to telephone York 7419, or borough police here.

Aged Resident Is Struck By Auto

Edward Barbehenn, 72, of 229 North Stratton street, suffered a possible fracture of the skull, head injuries and brush burns on his hands and arms at 5:40 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile at Baltimore and Wade streets. He was taken to the Warner hospital.

Borough police, who investigated the accident, said the automobile was operated by Dale Dunkinson, 229 West Middle street.

POLICE TOLD TO QUELL NOISES AFTER GAMES

Biglerville's special policemen are going to have the duty of determining when celebration of football victories as expressed through horn-toting ceases to be a celebration and becomes a nuisance.

That instruction was contained in a discussion Tuesday evening by the Biglerville borough council of the "excessive noise-making" that has occurred after some recent football games. The borough fathers decided that persons may celebrate after a football victory, but decided there were some limits that could be placed on the amount of noise in the celebration.

To that end they plan to continue having Gettysburg Borough Police-men Kenneth Tawney and Daniel P. Miller as special policemen for football games and will ask them to use their own judgment as to when horn-blowing moves from the celebration to the excessive noise stage.

That will be in addition to their duties of maintaining order at the games and helping with the traffic problem afterward.

The property committee was ordered to make a survey of the street lights in Biglerville and to report back on what additional lights are needed, or what changes should be made in the present lights. Councilmen Joseph Boyer, Ralph Shetter and Hobart Heller are members of the committee.

The ordinance committee was directed to draw up a new law setting a fall of 1/4 inch per foot for pavements. Previously, under the law of 1903, old pavement had to have a slant of from three to five inches in a six-foot-wide pavement from the building to the curb line. In their discussion council held the slant toward the street was too great, decided to pass an ordinance setting the 1/4 inch per foot drop as standard for the town.

Local Workers At GOP Rally Today

Republican County Chairman John H. Bashore, Vice Chairman Mrs. Ethel Dipton, State Committeeman Clarence C. Smith, and Mrs. H. H. Thomas, party worker, were in Harrisburg today attending the pre-election Republican "pop" rally held in the caucus room of the House of Representatives at noon.

Governor James H. Duff, Senator Edward Martin, Republican State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor and Mrs. Sara G. Leffler, vice chairman of the GOP state committee, were the speakers.

The rally brought together party leaders from nearly every county in the state, and speakers stressed the objective of bringing out the greatest vote in the history of Pennsylvania.

Three Enrolled In VFW Post Here

Phil M. Dunn, Robert W. Paris and Robert C. Aughinbaugh, all of Gettysburg, were elected into membership of Post No. 15, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Wednesday evening, at a meeting at the post home, Carlisle street.

A Halloween committee consisting of Samuel Weaver, Arthur Roth and Robert H. Deardorff was appointed by Senior Vice Commander Sebastian Hafer in the absence of Commander David Hughes. A communication was read from Richard Gross Post No. 8896, East Berlin thanking the Gettysburg post for a donation to an injured softball player.

John Rummel, chairman of the firing squad committee, reported favorably on the formation of a VFW unit to officiate at funerals of ex-servicemen.

The advisability of purchasing a new home was discussed at a meeting of the Home Association which followed the post meeting. James Harness won the door prize of $5.00. The meeting was attended by 102 members following which refreshments were served.

FILES ESTATE BOND

An administration bond in the estate of Donald M. Shulley, late of Hamilton township has been filed with the county register and recorder by the administrator of the estate, Lewis W. Shulley, Ottantanna, father of the deceased.

SOROPTIMISTS PLEDGE $45 TO CHEST CAMPAIGN

Twenty members of the Soroptimist club attended the monthly business meeting held at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Hennig on Tuesday night, preceded by the meeting of the board of directors. Mrs. Frederic E. Griest presided.

The budget set up by the finance committee for the year was approved by the club, which included a pledge of $45 to the Community Chest drive. A $5 donation was also approved for the Gettysburg Fire company. Miss Dorothy Poth is chairman of the finance committee with Miss Esther V. Hartman and Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler as members.

The local group accepted the invitation of the Carlisle club to join them in the Founders' Week dinner, annually observed in the American Federation, which will be held at Allenberry inn, Boiling Springs. Miss Julia Peters is in charge of transportation for the event which will be held on Tuesday, October 19, at 6:30 p. m.

Going To Conference

Mrs. Griest, Mrs. Violet Mitchell, Mrs. Curtis Flohr and Mrs. Buehler will represent the club at the fall conference of the North Atlantic region being held in Reading on October 22 and 23, it was decided. Mrs. C. T. Ziegler presented the matter of financing a Halloween parade this year and the club voted $5 toward this project if it is carried out.

Ashton-under-Lynne, England, was named as the sister club of the Gettysburg club and members were asked to contribute articles for a Christmas box of prepared foods to be sent to them. Mrs. Fred Faber is Sister Club chairman and will supervise the project. Mrs. George F. Eberhart, Miss Virginia Myers and Miss Peters were appointed to serve as a committee on a masked Halloween covered dish supper to be held at the Gettysburg Country club on October 26, when prizes will be offered for costumes.

Members of the Gavel club, composed of past presidents, with Mrs. Buehler as chairman, announced plans for the club's big event of the year, their 10th birthday dinner, to be held on November 23, in which many other clubs in this area will participate.

Mrs. Griest reported on the Pennsylvania Week dinner held by the Hanover club, which four local members attended. Mrs. Eva Pape, membership chairman, reported that during the past year five new members had been added to the club roll and a new club had been organized in Chambersburg with 20 members.

CARL SAUER, 76, DIES SUDDENLY

Carl Sauer, 76, formerly of Pittsburgh, died suddenly Wednesday evening at 11 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Raymond W. Solberger, New Oxford R. 1.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams county coroner, investigated and attributed death to coronary occlusion.

Mr. Sauer was a son of the late Jacob and Catherine (Schwenk) Sauer. He retired as an elevator operator six years ago. His wife, the former Bertha Behndt, died in 1918.

In addition to his daughter he is survived by two grandchildren.

The body was shipped to Pittsburgh this afternoon. Funeral services are expected to be held in Pittsburgh on Saturday.

Woman In Crash At Chambersburg

Ralph E. Forbes, of Marion, Pa., will be charged with failure to stop at a stop sign, in Chambersburg, borough police reported, as the result of a two-vehicle collision there Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Police said Mrs. Marie Livingston, of Gettysburg R. 5, was driving a truck south in Main street and that Forbes' coupe, going westward in East Catharine street, collided with the truck in the intersection.

It was learned that Mrs. Livingston was carrying preferential mail from Harrisburg to Hagerstown and deliveries south of Chambersburg were delayed.

Patrolman Glenn B. Rife estimated the damage to the Livingston truck at $100 and that to the Forbes automobile at $10. Police reported that no one was injured.

SCHOOLMEN TO MEET

The October meeting of the Adams County Schoolmen's Group will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the library in Gettysburg high school, Donald R. Ernst, secretary, announced today. The topic for the session will be "Joint District Operation."

Waybright Attends State FFA Meeting

Richard Waybright, student at Gettysburg high school, and only county agricultural student to be named to an office in the state Future Farmers of America, is attending a meeting of the state FFA being held at State College today, Friday and Saturday.

At the session, the officers of the state organization will be instructed in their duties and will lay plans for the coming year.

Waybright is reporter for the state organization and in that capacity will visit FFA chapters throughout the state during the coming year. Officers of the state association include Waybright; Alvin Mayes, Jr., Chalfont, president; Ralph G. Sammer, vice president, Kutztown; Robert Gaston, Turbotville, secretary; Merle Bacon, Towanda, treasurer; and Carl Spacht, North East, chaplain.

YOUNG DRIVER IS FINED AFTER CRASHING POLE

George Perreault, 19, of Waterbury, Conn., a student at Mount St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, whose automobile struck a telephone pole on the Harrisburg road a short distance north of Gettysburg Monday morning, paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore Wednesday on a charge of reckless driving.

Perreault and five other Mount students were returning from Waterbury when the car left the road, struck the pole and came to a stop in a drainage ditch. All six were injured and treated at the Warner hospital. The car was demolished.

Brinton Wastler, Thurmont, paid a fine of $10 to Justice of the Peace Elton Myers, Idaville, on a charge of speeding, also filed by state police of the Gettysburg sub-station. Charles R. McDannell, Biglerville R. 1, was fined $2 and costs by Squire Myers for parking on the highway.

Others Are Fined

Robert L. Garber, Mt. Jackson, Va., paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace Ellis Stine, Fairfield, for failing to keep to the right side of the highway.

Lawrence D. Cruze, Gettysburg R. 1, was fined $10 and costs by Squire Stine on a similar charge.

Robert G. Taylor, McKnightstown, paid $10 and costs to Justice of the Peace Vernon Snyder, Littlestown R. D., for improper lights on his car.

A 10-day notice was sent by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder today to Samuel McDannell, Iron Springs, on a charge of driving without an operator's license, filed by state police.

Five Children Share In Estate

The estate of Mrs. Mary C. Bollinger, of Emmitsburg, is to be divided among her five children according to the terms of her will, admitted to probate by the Frederick Orphans' court of Frederick county. A daughter, Mrs. Carrie B. Hartzell, who qualified as executrix, reported real estate valued at $4,000 and personal property worth $1,500.

Dated January 10, 1947 and witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Millard F. Shuff, Jr., the will leaves the estate to Clarence W. Bollinger, Mrs. Hartzell, Roy C. Bollinger, Mrs. Grace O. Valentine and Harry T. Bollinger.

FORFEITS BOND

David E. Spangler, Littlestown, forfeited $6.45 collateral before Maryland Trial Magistrate Vincent A. Tubman at Taneytown when charged with exceeding the 25-mile speed limit laid by State Trooper J. S. Poteet.

Chest Fund Nears $3,000; Workers Will Report Tonight

Gettysburg's Community Chest, drive neared the $3,000 mark today with donations totaling $604, John S. Rice, chairman, announced.

One hundred dollars was donated by the Gettysburg Fire company and $504 was reported from two solicitors who said it was a partial return from their section of the town. Wednesday's total figure was $2,331.75. With today's donations the amount contributed thus far in the drive is $2,935.75.

All workers were urged today by Chairman Rice to submit reports of the progress of their efforts tonight at Philip Bickle's office, Baltimore street.

"We are anxious to receive reports from every solicitor tonight. This will enable us to check the sections of town that have been canvassed, tabulate our returns and make plans for the remainder of the campaign," Chairman Rice said.

FIREMEN PLAN JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

Gettysburg will cease to be a "dead town" on the Fourth of July, if present plans for a celebration here on that date are carried through.

At the regular meeting of the Gettysburg Fire department Wednesday night in the engine house, James S. Shenk, chairman of the recent block party committee, suggested that the firemen sponsor an Independence Day celebration, which he said might include a pageant, band concert, parade, fireworks and block party.

"The town is dead," Mr. Shenk declared. "Gettysburg people go out of town. Strangers who come here expect some sort of a celebration and are disappointed when they find nothing going on."

Vice president William G. Weaver agreed with Mr. Shenk. "At the Jennie Wade house we find that people who come here on the Fourth of July expect some kind of a big affair on that day," he said. "Gettysburg has been missing the boat for years."

Suggest Town Program

According to Mr. Weaver, however, other organizations are also thinking about a Fourth of July celebration. "If a community project is in the wind, we should see what is going to be done before going ahead with any plans of our own," he said. "I think we should join with such a community affair, or if one is not held, we can then make our own plans."

Mr. Shenk was named chairman of a committee to investigate the matter and report at a later meeting. He chose members of his block party committee to assist him on his new Fourth of July committee.

President James B. Aumen presided at the meeting, which was attended by approximately 50 firemen. A contribution of $200 was (Please Turn To Page 2)

FELLOWSHIP TO SELL COVERS FOR NOV. 19

First Day covers (envelopes) in connection with the first day sale, November 19, of U. S. postage stamps commemorating the 85th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, will be sent from the Lincoln Room, Wills building, to stamp collectors, according to Henry E. Luhrs, president of the Lincoln Fellowship.

The First Day covers, engraved in blue by a large manufacturing concern exclusively for the Lincoln Fellowship, will be sold to stamp collectors, and others interested, by the Fellowship, which will receive the entire proceeds.

President Luhrs said: "The Lincoln Fellowship will receive all the proceeds. The revenue will be used to finance the annual program in the Gettysburg National cemetery November 19 and permit an expanded program of activities for the Fellowship."

Others On Sale

HURT IN BLAST

Charles Glunt, of Biglerville, was injured in a dynamite blast shortly before two o'clock this afternoon in Biglerville. Glunt, with other men, was about to set off a dynamite charge in the street in front of the Biglerville high school, when the fuse discharged the dynamite and blew Mr. Glunt out of a hole in the street.

The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the hospital. Mr. Glunt is about 65 years old.

Police To Conduct Mock Trial Tonight

Tonight's session of the FBI police school in the council chambers at the fire engine house will feature a mock trial, Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster announced today.

George Tucker, FBI agent, will be in charge of the session, which will stress the proper methods of testifying in court. Tucker and FBI Agent Maurice Carroll, will act as defense attorneys.

Others in the cast, tentatively selected for the mock trial, will include Chief of Police Earl McNale, New Oxford, as judge and Harpster, Chief of Police Leon Gage, Littlestown, and the Hanover police chief, as prosecuting attorneys. Seven police officers will be chosen as witnesses in a mythical hit-and-run case, Harpster said.

WOMAN'S CLUB VOTES $100 TO 'CHEST' DRIVE

The Gettysburg Woman's club, at the monthly meeting Wednesday evening preceding the meeting of the Adams County Federation of Women's clubs, at the Y. W. C. A., subscribed $100 to the Community Chest fund.

The contribution to the Community Chest was passed by unanimous vote on the recommendation of the board of directors.

Following the opening ceremonies of the prayer for the day, read by Mrs. Ralph Helm; the salute to the flag and the singing of the national anthem, the members paid silent tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. E. A. Miller, for many years a member of the organization.

Five new members were presented at the meeting. They are: Miss Marian Tupper, Mrs. Emmett Paddy, Mrs. A. E. McKenney, Mrs. James Prout and Mrs. W. R. Doyle.

Reports were received from Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, secretary; Mrs. Earl E. Zeigler, treasurer; Mrs. R. E. Berkeheimer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, chairman of the finance committee, and Mrs. Paul Thomas, chairman of the welfare committee.

The president of the club, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, paid tribute to the work of Mrs. A. H. Barr, as chairman of the welfare committee. Mrs. Barr, a former president of the club, recently moved from Gettysburg to El Monte, California, and it was announced that Mrs. Paul Thomas, who served as war bond chairman of the club during the war, would fill Mrs. Barr's unexpired term as welfare chairman.

The Adams County Federation of Women's clubs and following the federation program tea was served by the Gettysburg club with Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, chairman, and the following members of the hostess committee: Mrs. Allen Sloat, Mrs. Wilbur Baker, Mrs. Fred Pfeffer, Mrs. Grover Ridler, Mrs. John Mumper and Mrs. Wilbur Plank.

MRS. J. C. KNOX EXPIRES TODAY

Mrs. Margaret Elizabeth Knox, 88, wife of J. Charles Knox, died at her home, 38 East Middle street, this morning at 3 o'clock from infirmities of age. She had been in ill health 20 months.

Mrs. Knox was born in Fairfield, a daughter of the late Charles F. and Isabelle (White) Sefton. She resided in Gettysburg the last four years and prior to that had lived in Fairfield 10 years. Previously she was a resident of Gettysburg for 22 years.

The deceased taught school in Hamilton township a number of years and in Luthersburg, Pa., prior to her marriage 61 years ago. At the time of her marriage she was employed for three years as a bookkeeper by the Sefton Manufacturing company, Anderson, Ind. Mrs. Knox was a member of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, and was an active member of the DAR and the WCTU.

Surviving are her husband and one son, Samuel Sefton Knox, Long Beach, Calif.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Admissions to the Warner hospital include Mrs. James Cooney, East Berlin; Mrs. Clarence Dorn, Keymar, Md.; Mrs. Guy Fohl, Biglerville, and Mrs. Harry Sillik, 345 York street. Those discharged were James Hays, Jr., a student at Gettysburg college; Dallas Blubaugh, 101 Hanover street; Wayne Record, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Earl Ecker and infant son, of Biglerville; Susan Britcher, 24 Baltimore street; Mrs. Weldon Shank and infant son, William, Emmitsburg; Mrs. William Cullison and infant daughter, Linda Kay, Gettysburg R. 3, and Felix McGlaughlin, Emmitsburg.

PENNSYLVANIA LEADS STATES IN FIELD TOURS

Pennsylvanians are Gettysburg's most numerous battlefield visitors. That fact was disclosed today in a summary of visitors by states released by the Gettysburg National Military park. The figures show that 113,979 people took guided tours over the field during the travel year ending September 30. They traveled in 22,731 vehicles including 21,919 cars and 812 buses. There were 87,676 persons in the cars and 26,303 in the buses.

A total of 28,757 Pennsylvanians, traveling in 4,512 cars and 323 buses took guided tours over the field. The next most numerous guided tourists were those from New York, with 15,801 of the Empire state residents in 3,424 cars and 64 buses.

The third largest number of visitors by states came from Ohio, the record for guided trips shows, with 11,878 from the state touring the field in 2,566 cars and 54 buses. The District of Columbia was fourth with 10,066 of its residents, traveling in 2,121 cars and 51 buses.

Many Foreign Visitors

Visitors from all of the 48 states, the district of Columbia, Hawaii, Panama, Alaska, Canada, Philippines, Virgin Islands, British West Indies and Cuba made tours of the field escorted by guides.

The list of guided tourists by state or country was as follows:

Alabama, 241 in 52 cars, one bus; Arizona, 92 in 23 cars; Arkansas, 116 in 29 cars; California, 1,475 in 336 cars, one bus; Colorado, 268 in 57 cars; Connecticut, 1,404, in 351 cars; Delaware, 399 in 89 cars and one bus; District of Columbia, 10,066 in 2,121 cars and 51 buses. ## ROBBERY LOOT IS RECOVERED IN FREDERICK

With the arrest in Frederick, Md., Wednesday by Maryland state police of a Frederick man, borough police said today that two radios, reported stolen from the Dave Oyer Motors, Steinwehr avenue on June 1, had been recovered, and a series of burglaries in Pennsylvania and Maryland solved.

Alban M. Barthlow, 19, of 23 Franklin street, Frederick, was being held by Maryland authorities for further investigation, after admitting several of the thefts, police here said. Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster said he had filed a detainer in Frederick charging Barthlow with receiving stolen property.

The Oyer Motors was burglarized early on the morning of June 1, and a car radio, valued at $99.30, and a portable radio, valued at $49, stolen, Harpster said.

Admits Robberies

A Maryland state police officer stopped Barthlow for a traffic violation, and "spotted" the stolen car radio in Barthlow's car, Harpster said. Harpster and State Policeman James Walsh were notified and went to Frederick Wednesday, where Harpster said Barthlow admitting having the portable radio. It was recovered in his room, the chief said.

Police said that Barthlow had a spare wheel and tire on the rear of his car which was stolen, they said, from a service station south of Gettysburg.

Harpster said Barthlow admitted to participating in two service station robberies in and near Frederick, on which he is being detained.

Holy Communion At Trinity On Sunday

Holy communion will be celebrated on Sunday at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church in connection with the World-Wide celebration which was observed on October 3. The first celebration will be at 7:45 a.m. The junior church choir will sing the anthem "I Love to Tell the Story of Unseen Things Above." The senior choir will sing at the 10:30 a.m. celebration. Elders Ray J. Kitzmiller, John E. Stahle and W. Preston Hull will assist at both services.

The service preparatory to the Holy communion will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Archie Rohrbach, pastor of St. Paul's church, New Oxford, will preach the sermon. The junior and senior choirs will be in charge of the music.

Just received! New corduroy vests in gold, green and gray, Helen-Kay shop, Chambersburg street.

The Adams county commissioners Wednesday afternoon accepted the new $156,000 jail from the contractor, Earl Culp, and Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz today began moving his office from the old jail on East High street to the new jail along the Biglerville road.

The county took over the jail after reaching agreement with the contractor that certain small items, including the grading, will be completed by him, preferably before the "open house" and dedication next Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday the commissioners inspected the entire building, accompanied by the Sheriff and Judge W. C. Sheely; the architect, Alfred Hamme, and the contractor. They visited each of the 32 cells for men and six cells set aside for women prisoners, looked into the hospital section, set off in the southern part of the front section, inspected the kitchen and wash room, sheriff's quarters and office, the attorney's room and the basement before announcing they were satisfied with the structure.

Escape-Proof Windows

They were particularly pleased with the latest thing in prison installations. The windows are a series of small frames, with each frame suspended from a bar. A handle inside the window can be turned by the prisoners, with the number of sections opened and the width that each section opens being fixed by how many times the prisoner turns the handle. Thus he can determine the amount of air entering his own cell while at the same time the window sections are so close together he cannot make an escape.

Each cell has its own electric light, set behind shatter proof glass, its own basin and other toilet facilities. All of the cells in the men's section face a common corridor and the steel barred doors on each cell are opened through a switchboard in the sheriff's office of the jail.

By pushing buttons the sheriff or guard can open a single cell door or can open or close all at one time.

The cell section is separated from the remainder of the jail by a heavy steel door on each side of which are located tiny windows covered with heavy glass. A microphone-like device permits the guards or sheriff to speak to the prisoners without entering the cell block.

High Jail Wall

Visitors can speak to the prisoners through a double screened opening without going into the cell block or without having the prisoner brought outside the cell block. From the "prisoner's reception room" a prisoner can go only two directions, either back into the cell block or into the jail yard which is surrounded by a high concrete wall.

The door from the cell block leads into a corridor which also can be (Please Turn To Page 2)

OPTOMETRIST IS ARRESTED

The theft of a bottle of "Old Smuggler" Scotch whiskey from a tavern operated by Raymond Staub, Mt. Pleasant township, just outside of Bonneville on the Bonneville-Two Taverns road Wednesday afternoon led to the arrest and jailing Wednesday night of Dr. Joseph Hunter, an optometrist, of 22 Carlisle street, Hanover.

WILL DEDICATE ORGAN, CHIMES IN EAST BERLIN

Dedication of the Wurlitzer electric organ and mass cathedral chimes at the Bermudian Church of the Brethren near East Berlin will take place Sunday. Rev. G. W. Harlach, elder, will be in charge.

Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. will mark the opening of the services. The worship service in charge of Elder Harlach will begin at 10:30 o'clock with the hymn "Beautiful Garden of Prayer." Grace L. King will be the organist and Georgia Jacobs, chorister. Mrs. Ruth Harlach will give the call to worship. Special music will be furnished by the Fleming sisters, Dillsburg, and the prayer by Rev. Charles Altland. Naomi Julius will read the Scripture after which there will be the unveiling service with the prayer of consecration by Elder Harlach.

Dr. Ellis To Speak

Dr. C. C. Ellis, president emeritus of Juniata college, Huntingdon, will preach the sermon. The offering for the organ and chimes, a prayer of dedication by the elder in charge, benediction and doxology will close this service.

The afternoon service, opening at 2 p. m., will be known as Community Hour, with Rev. J. Albert Cook as moderator, Robert E. Boyer organist and Stanley S. Dotterer chorister. There will be an organ recital, a hymn and the invocation by the Rev. John S. Royer, pastor of the Reformed congregation of Holtzschwann church. A mixed octet from York's First Church of the Brethren has prepared special music. Rev. W. E. Smith, pastor of Red Mount Evangelical United Brethren church, will read the Scripture and offer prayer. After the meditation hymn, Dr. Ellis will preach another sermon. At this service Rev. Mr. Cook will offer dedicatory prayer after the offering.

Evening Moderator

Rev. J. Melvin Jacobs is to be moderator of the evening service at 7:15 p. m. with the organist and chorister of the afternoon service. Dr. Ellis will preach and there will be a recital by the organist. The male quartet of Messiah Bible college, Grantham, will furnish music. Scripture lesson and prayer will be in charge of Rev. Charles Eichelberger, Dillsburg.

The formal presentation of the organ will be by W. Carroll Vollard, of the organ committee, with the acceptance by a member of the church board of trustees. The Litany of Dedication will be by the Rev. Mr. Jacobs who will also offer the dedicatory prayer.

At 8 o'clock this evening an amateur camera club led by Walter Lane will organize at the recreation center.

TRUMAN, DEWEY TRADE PUNCHES

(By The Associated Press)

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today the job ahead of America calls for teamwork between congress and the White House, and that calls for a new administration.

President Truman declared he had finally "smoked out" his opposition on campaign issues and that what the Republicans offered was a "me, too, program."

Both major candidates were campaigning in the mid-west. Governor Dewey got off his "teamwork" call at Joplin, Mo. Mr. Truman was at Mankato, Minn., when he accused the Republicans of "me, too" promises and warned the people against "recent converts" to principles he said the Democrats have backed all along.

Making his second campaign swing across Mr. Truman's home state of Missouri, the GOP presidential candidate switched from his sharp attacks on the president's handling of foreign affairs to a "good government theme."

Mr. Truman meanwhile pushed his vote hunt through Minnesota and Wisconsin, where he is scheduled to make a major talk tonight in Milwaukee. The Democratic standard bearer stressed a plea at St. Paul for the "right kind of unity" to provide peace and prosperity for this country.

Dewey moves into Minnesota tomorrow after a major address to-night in Kansas City. The New York governor hammered away at the unity and peace theme in yesterday's heavy round of speeches in Oklahoma.

GETS POLICE POST

voted to the free ambulance service committee of the Warner hospital; $100 was voted to the Community Chest, and $25 to the Freedom Train committee.

Kiddies' Xmas Party

Joseph E. Codori, chairman of the ambulance committee, explained that this group seeks to set up a fund to provide a 24-hour free ambulance service to any part of the county. The Gettysburg Fire department is the first fire company in the county to donate to the fund, he said.

Vice President Weaver said the Freedom Train would visit Gettysburg on November 19 and 20. He also outlined plans for a parade to be held on Veterans' and Army day, November 13, at 3 o'clock. He said the parade would form in four sections, one section on each of the four principal streets, and march to Center Square, joining there for a band concert and other features. An invitation was extended to the firemen to march in the parade.

The fire company voted to hold a Kiddies' Christmas party in December and pay for it from funds left from previous Christmas parties, without solicitation of other organizations or individuals. The following committee was named to have charge: Donald C. Stallsmith, Rufus Bushman, Mervin Crouse, S. Richard Eisenhart, Richard Cole and Clarence Schultz. More than $500 is left in the fund.

FRAME DEMAND ON UN COUNCIL

By LOUIS NEVIN

Paris, Oct. 14 (AP)—Western power delegates met today on the Berlin crisis and authoritative sources said they were framing a joint demand for Security Council action to lift the Soviet blockade.

The Council takes up the Berlin issue again tomorrow. Hope vanished for mediation outside the Council with Russia's reported rejection of conciliation efforts by the so-called neutral states.

American, British and French delegates studied the Kremlin's answer to the neutral states' mediation efforts. The content of the Soviet note still was not made public, but Western sources said it set back the Berlin dispute to where it was six weeks ago.

The Security Council voted over Russian and Syrian objections today to consider ways of enforcing a stricter truce in Palestine.

The vote was 8 to 0, with Russia, the Ukraine and Syria abstaining. Russia and Syria said the report of Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting mediator for Palestine, contained nothing new.

Bunche's report, made September 30, was read to the Council. It recommended stronger measures to insure safety for truce observers and better compliance from Jews and Arabs in keeping the peace.

Bunche, an American Negro, succeeded Count Folke Bernadotte after a group from the Jewish Stern Gang killed the Swedish nobleman in Jerusalem September 17.

Indian Summer Is Here: Weatherman

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—Indian summer blossomed officially over most of the nation today.

The U. S. weather bureau said so. Daytime temperatures in the north central section between the Rockies and Appalachians run generally in the 60's. Nighttime marks are around 30 to 40 with light frosts in spots.

A few showers were reported in Nevada, Arkansas, northeastern Texas and along the mid-Atlantic coast.

The forecast is more of the same.

Upper Communities

completely shut off. A steel door guards the opening from the corridor into the sheriff's office, another steel door leads to the kitchen and wash room and another steel door blocks the entrance to three of the cells for women.

Two tiers of cells for men are located in the rear of the building. The second floor cells open onto a balcony which runs around the cell block. A guard looking through one of the tiny windows can see everything in the corridor, both upstairs and down, before entering.

Other Safeguards

The jail is protected from anyone who might wish to "break in" with the idea of releasing prisoners. The visitor enters the jail through a corridor. On the side of the corridor is a narrow, barred window with double glass. On the opposite wall is a mirror making all parts of the corridor visible. An attendant in the office can view the corridor before opening the heavy steel door leading into the office proper.

The dedicatory exercises for the new jail, which will be held October 20 at 3 p. m., and the open house which will be held from 3 to 8 o'clock on the date will permit countians to visit every section of the jail, from the boiler room to the hospital section, which, besides two cells for prisoners who are ill, also includes offices for the county physician, Dr. C. G. Crist, where he can examine and prescribe for the prisoners.

The cost of the jail included $107,495 for the general contract; $10,992 for heating; $13,111 for plumbing; $3,189 electrical; $400 for additional work; $7,900 for the wall, and $13,095 for the garage and driveway which are not as yet completed.

completely shut off. A steel door guards the opening from the corridor into the sheriff's office, another steel door leads to the kitchen and wash room and another steel door blocks the entrance to three of the cells for women.

Two tiers of cells for men are located in the rear of the building. The second floor cells open onto a balcony which runs around the cell block. A guard looking through one of the tiny windows can see everything in the corridor, both upstairs and down, before entering.

Other Safeguards

The jail is protected from anyone who might wish to "break in" with the idea of releasing prisoners. The visitor enters the jail through a corridor. On the side of the corridor is a narrow, barred window with double glass. On the opposite wall is a mirror making all parts of the corridor visible. An attendant in the office can view the corridor before opening the heavy steel door leading into the office proper.

The dedicatory exercises for the new jail, which will be held October 20 at 3 p. m., and the open house which will be held from 3 to 8 o'clock on the date will permit countians to visit every section of the jail, from the boiler room to the hospital section, which, besides two cells for prisoners who are ill, also includes offices for the county physician, Dr. C. G. Crist, where he can examine and prescribe for the prisoners.

The cost of the jail included $107,495 for the general contract; $10,992 for

Up And Coming Shippensburg Eleven To Battle Maroons On Local Field Friday Evening

Shippensburg high school's revitalized football team, upset conquerors of Carlisle last Saturday, comes here Friday night to meet Coach George Forney's Gettysburg high Maroons in a South Penn conference game. The kickoff will be at 8 o'clock.

Until last Saturday it was a foregone conclusion the Maroons would win with comparative ease. However, all that has changed now and instead a stiff battle is in prospect.

By defeating Carlisle 25-19, the Greyhounds sounded a warning to all future opponents they are no longer the pushovers they had been in the past. Although definitely out of the running for the South Penn title the Shippensburg aggregation hopes to establish itself as an important factor in the race through the medium of upsets.

Dick Landis, new Shippensburg coach, has eight letters on his squad and they are beginning to click with his new system after dropping three straight league games. The seven letters on the line include Lynch and Luhrs, ends; tackle, McBeth; guards, Devor, B. Hancock, Bolton and Angle, center. Hookersmith, the eighth letterman, is a back. The non-letterman varsity tackles, Plasterer and Mellett, weigh 225 and 205 pounds, respectively.

GHS Needs Win
It is virtually a case of do or die from now on for Coach Forney's outfit. A defeat would practically eliminate Gettysburg from the conference title race and a deadlock would be nearly as costly. Hence, the Maroons must go all out for victory in their remaining contests.

With the possible exception of Harold Dayhoff, guard, who has a slight cold, the Maroons will be in good physical condition for the game.

Doug Knox, halfback, is ready for full time service, and Bob Williams, tackle, who missed last week's tilt, is set for at least part time duty. Harold Cleveland, tackle, has fully recovered from a minor injury.

Coach Forney's starting lineup will be chosen from the following: Ends, Westerahl, Donaldson, Ford, Snyder; tackles, Williams, Kane, Kitzmiller, Cleveland; guards, Dayhoff, Niebler, Hess, Davis; center, Bucher, Shultz; backs, Hottle, Bowling, Bie-secker, Kump, Bushman, Sachs, Miller.

Other Contests
Two other conference games are carded for Friday night, topmost of which is the Hanover-Chambersburg game at Chambersburg. Both are undefeated in league play although Chambersburg has a tie on its record. Hershey, also unbeaten, plays at Waynesboro in another important game.

Carlisle and Mechanicsburg are listed for non-conference games this week. On Friday Hershey Industrial school will play at Carlisle and on Saturday afternoon Mechanicsburg plays at New Cumberland.

Announcement has been made that Delone Catholic will meet Calvert Hall, of Baltimore, Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock at McSherrystown instead of Friday night as previously listed.

Maroon Gridders To Be Guests At Game

The Gettysburg high school football squad will be the guest of the Naval Academy Athletic association of Baltimore at the Navy-Missouri football game in Baltimore Saturday afternoon.

Football squads of high schools in Maryland and southern Pennsylvania will be guests of the Navy at the game. The local squad of 35 players and school officials will travel via bus.

SCHOOL TEAMS PLACE PERFECT MARKS ON LINE

By LEONARD A. UNGER
Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (P)—The championship field is still wide open in most of Pennsylvania's scholastic grid conferences as the 1948 campaign reaches the halfway mark this week-end.

But with most of the breather games out of the way, the list of undefeated, untied teams is about to take on added meaning. The toughest part of the schedule of most schools is at hand.

One of the top tilts in the state sees the Bradford eleven take on the Warren Dragons at home tomorrow night. Both squads are unbeaten in each of their five starts this season. Bradford is a slight favorite by virtue of topheavy scores against most of its opponents—but tomorrow's score is likely to be close.

The other undefeated squads, Phoenixville and Pottstown, meet on the latter's gridiron Saturday in Southeastern test of strength. Each has three wins this year.

Mt. Carmel, another contingent with an unblemished record of four straight triumphs, meets once-beaten Shenandoah tomorrow night for its stiffest opposition so far this year.

That Eastern conference game will share the spotlight with Blakeley's visit to West Scranton tomorrow night in quest of its 18th consecutive victory over two seasons. Blakeley is defending champion of the Eastern conference.

In the Central Pennsylvania conference, the powerful Steelton contingent takes on Harrisburg William Penn in a game that is sure to produce sparks. Steelton has a perfect record and William Penn lost only to Lancaster last week.

But for a change of pace from the array of stronger teams, Eastern fans will see two teams hungry for victory battle at Stroudsburg for the "little brown jug." East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg oppose each other Saturday. Each in quest of its first win this year. East Stroudsburg will be seeking its initial triumph in 28 games—it hasn't been victorious for nearly four years.

New York, Oct. 14 (P)—Flyweight Champion Rinty Monaghan of Belfast is coming to the United States to defend his 112-pound title against Dado Marino of Honolulu, probably at Los Angeles in early January.

This is the first answer to the reorganized Twentieth Century sporting club by the rival Tournament of Champions, which will promote the Monaghan-Marino go.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 14 (P)—Hodgen, five-year-old son of Schuyler Belle Lincoln, from the McKinley Park stables, won both ends of the Aurora Downs Grand Circuit Pacing Stake last night. The double victory was Hodgen's 17th and 18th wins out of 31 starts this season.

Bloomington, Pa., Oct. 14 (P)—Danny Litwiler of Bloomington, Pa., and his major league all-stars got off to a winning start in their barn storming trip yesterday.

They defeated the Bloomington all-stars 17-2 with Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies, Verne Bickford of the Boston Braves and Bill McCahan of Philadelphia Athletics hurling five-hit balls. Ron Northey of the St. Louis Cards hit a three-run homer.

SHAKEUP UNDER WAY IN BOSTON RED SOX CAMP

By JOSEPH B. KELLEY

Boston, Oct. 14 (P)—It's almost a cinch bet Boston Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey, Vice President Eddie Collins, General Manager Joe Cronin, and Manager Joe McCarthy will be around next season—but don't bet on anyone else except possibly some of the better players.

Yawkey couldn't hide his disappointment over losing the American league pennant, and much of the blame is being passed around to Sox and farm officials.

The shakeup in the Sox organization which began before the club was beaten out in an unprecedented playoff appears likely to continue. Three members of the organization are gone and the Sox, rejecting all questions, indicate the three resigned.

The three disagree and say, in effect, "we didn't jump, we were pushed."

Latest to go is Del Baker, veteran coach and onetime Detroit Tiger manager, who will be replaced by Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, erstwhile star National league outfielder and more recently a southern association manager. Cuyler played under McCarthy when the latter managed the Chicago Cubs.

Denies Resignation
The Sox office, reporting the change, said Baker had resigned. At his San Antonio, Tex., home Baker retorted he had been dismissed in a telephone conversation with Cronin.

George (Specs) Toporcer also said he wanted "to stay in baseball" after the Sox said that he had resigned, that his health was poor and that his farm director's job had been filled by Scout Johnny Murphy.

"My health is fine," Toporcer told friends after he had been replaced. Toporcer's resignation—dismissal followed by a few days the firing of Assistant General Manager Phil Troy, who had been with the Sox for 18 years.

Cronin and others in the Sox organization fended off all inquiries concerning Troy. But Troy told close friends:

"Tom Yawkey called me into his office and told me, 'Phil, I hate to do this but you don't fit into our contemplated reorganizational plans.'"

Declaring erroneous the theories that man is instinctively pugnacious and destructive; that it is human nature to fight and that war means social evolution; and that man needs war as a stimulus to evolutionary development, the speaker said:

"Surely there must be some other way than war to put iron in the blood stream of nations. Peace is not a negative thing. It is a state of human relations wherein the needs of human beings are met by constructive action. We must build a world in which peace provides a greater basic satisfaction than war."

Flood control, reforestation and other constructive projects that will aid the world in its fight to retain nature's presentations were enumerated by Dr. Smoke as alternates to war that would provide "iron for the blood streams" of nations.

Dr. Leo Stock, professor of history at Catholic university, Washington, was the speaker.

The musical program comprised vocal selections by Miss Marie Codori and Mrs. C. J. Myers and a duet by Miss Codori and Charles W. Stock.

The Rev. Fr. Stock presided and Attorney William J. McSherry, of

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
ERRAND RUNNERS

In the last analysis I believe that we can be called errand runners. Only as we render some service to others do we serve ourselves. My first job in business was as an errand boy in Chicago. It made me feel proud to be associated with one who trusted me to make important errands.

Long since in business for myself, I still am in the errand business. I am an errand in the distribution of these daily talks, and also in the placing of ideas, entertainment and means of instruction, before many millions of newspaper readers.

You will recall that famous remark of Abraham Lincoln's, who stated that he would gladly hold McClellan's horse if he would only bring him victories. Great statesmen today run errands, to all parts of the earth, for the government that they represent, hoping for the consummation of peace and good will. We exalt ourselves as we contribute to every worthwhile enterprise.

The salesman is an errand runner. He delivers ideas that he hopes may become orders, and it is these orders that contribute to the success and well-being of the institution that the salesman serves.

That man Rowan, whom Elbert Hubbard wrote about in his famous "Message to Garcia," was an errand runner for the President of the United States. He had a message to deliver to a Cuban general. The mere fact that the errand was a success is the significant thing. What that message was is not recorded.

The office boy is pleased when asked by his employer to run an errand, for there is a compliment exchanged both ways. Trust and responsibility. Many of the pages in the United States Congress, who run here and there, serving the lawmakers, with their errands, have later taken their place as lawmakers! All runners of errands are important.

That letter that you send, with its message of cheer and encouragement—what an errand runner that is! It can go to any part of the world, and so quickly these days, And how every book runs errands, bringing joy, hope, and entertainment to vast multitudes.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Getting Around."

Just Folks

The Poet of the People

THE FOOL
Thinking more of the need, and less of the cost,
The money he had at the moment was lost;
But he never complained at the way that it went,
He had done what he could and with that was content.

Some said that his heart was too big for his purse,
But he answered, he knew many faults that are worse,
And he's rather be cheated than go to his bed
Still keeping the dollar some beggar had fed.

"I'd rather be helpful than selfish," said he.
"If sharing is folly, then folly for me!
Since no man takes money away when he dies,
While living I'd rather enjoy what it buys."

VOTERS WILL DECIDE MANY SIDE ISSUES

By Oliver W. DeWolf

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Voters in 35 states will decide the fate of scores of proposals November 2 besides picking national and state officials.

Louisiana alone has posed 40 constitutional questions.

Californians will ballot on 15 proposed amendments to its constitution, one referendum and four initiatives. Alabama and Florida each have 11 constitutional matters up for decision, followed by Texas with eight and Maryland with seven.

To Decide Other Topics

Only 13 states—including Pennsylvania—will confine their ballots to elective officials. New Jersey rates on two bond issues.

An Associated Press survey of the questions and subjects to be submitted to the various electorates show that 12 states will deal with the issue of aid for veterans, eight concern the liquor question and three have controversial amendments touching on labor.

Other topics include revision of tax and old age pension systems, bond issues, pay revisions for state legislators and officers, lines of succession for state offices, and voter qualifications.

Labor Measures Up

Of the three states considering labor measures, two—Arizona and Massachusetts—also dealt with the subject in the 1946 election.

At that time, Arizona adopted a constitutional amendment to outlaw closed shops; so did Nebraska and South Dakota. Arizonians are being asked by referendum this year to approve legislation to put the ban into effect.

Massachusetts voters have three referendums on the ballot. One—a "right-to-work" measure—would prohibit agreements which exclude any person from employment because of membership, or non-membership, in a labor union. Another would require that labor union officers be elected by secret ballot at least once a year. The third would prohibit all strikes except those voted by a majority of the union's membership.

"Open Shop" Question Up

Two years ago, Bay State voters approved a proposal requiring labor unions to publish financial reports.

In New Mexico, voters will be asked to ballot on an "open shop" amendment which would prohibit denying employment to any person because of membership in, resignation or expulsion from a labor organization, or refusal to join a union. Like the Massachusetts proposal, it also would forbid agreements to exclude any person from employment because of union membership, or non-membership.

Prior to 1946 only two states, Florida and Arkansas, had adopted anti-closed shop amendments to their constitutions. Under a closed shop all workers in a plant must belong to a union or lose their jobs.

ARCHERS ASKING HUNTING SEASON

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Devotees of the bow and arrow want a special hunting season for themselves in Pennsylvania.

Northeastern Pennsylvania archers plan to place such a proposal up for consideration at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs opening here tomorrow.

The bow and arrow enthusiasts are pointing to six states which already have special archery hunting seasons prior to the regular hunting campaign.

They claim the noise of gunfire during the regular season cramps their style which requires silent stalking. The state's two archery preserves are inadequate, they said. Clayton Shenk, Strasburg, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Archery association, says there are 6,000 bow and arrow enthusiasts in the state and about 1,000 of them are hunters.

But another resolution, backed by sportsmen of southeastern counties, is opposing the archers' proposal.

State Authorities OK Bridge Plans

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The state Water and Power Resources board has authorized the construction of bridges carrying the eastern extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike over three streams.

Approval was given yesterday for spans over Behm run, Lancaster county; Conecago creek, Lebanon county, and a tributary of the Yellow Breeches creek in York county.

The board also passed favorably on an application from the State Highways department for construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill river at Pottsville.

Board approval is necessary for any construction affecting the state's waterways.

KILLED BY CAR

Reading, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—An automobile struck and killed William Esterly, 70, on a city street last night. The man was dead upon admission to the Community General hospital.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg.—Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Peters, of Baltimore, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stoner moved last Wednesday from the home of Mrs. Frank Stoner to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Combs. Mr. and Mrs. Combs left last Wednesday to spend a year at De Soto, Georgia. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Masser moved on Thursday to the home of Mrs. Frank Stoner.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yeomans and family moved on Saturday to their newly purchased home on DePaul street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Owens and daughter, Linda, of Baltimore, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Rodgers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eyer and family, of York, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Flora Eyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodge and daughter, of Philadelphia, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Timmerman. Mrs. Hodge and daughter remained at the Timmerman home to spend a week. Mrs. Hodge is the former Catherine Timmerman.

The juniors of St. Joseph's high school were measured recently for their class rings by a representative from Baltimore. This is the class of 1950.

The Rev. Michael J. O'Brien, C.M., moderator of the C.S.M.C. unit, accompanied students of the high school to the meeting of the Catholic Student Mission Crusade in Hagerstown last Thursday. Guy A. Baker was chosen by the students for election as an officer in the Blue Ridge conference.

The freshmen of the high school elected its class officers as follows: Richard Sprankle, president; Joseph Arnold, vice president; Joanna Benschoff, treasurer, and Jean Joy, secretary.

Fire drills and other features marked the observance of Fire Prevention Week. Bulletin boards, posters, and stickers bore the message that the Fifth Horseman, fire, must be stopped. Inspection of homes for fire hazards are carried on by the pupils.

The Women's club in conjunction with the Grange, will hold the Community Show on October 22 and 23 at the firemen's hall. The public is welcome to enter exhibits. The rules and regulations regarding the show will be announced at an early date.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 121 was held in the Legion home recently. The new president, Mrs. Laura Rosensteel, presided. A business session followed the recitation of the auxiliary prayer. The auxiliary received an invitation from the Frederick and Brunswick posts to attend their installation of officers on October 8 and 19, respectively, at the Frederick Legion home.

Several committees were appointed to attend the following assignments: Gold Star chairman, Mrs. Edwin Chrismer; Community service, Mrs. Richard Yeomans, Mrs. Charles Hemler; refreshments, Mrs. William Topper, Mrs. Lewis Topper; Child welfare, Mrs. Harold Hoke; Membership chairman, Mrs. C. G. Frailey; Legislative, Mrs. Robert Fitz; Rehabilitation, Mrs. David Lee Neighbors, Miss Virginia Wagerman, Mrs. Donald Stoner, Publicity, Mrs.

Twelve members and an honorary Gold Star mother, Mrs. Edward Bowers, attended the meeting. A coconut cake was awarded and netted the auxiliary $7.25. The cake was won by Allen Bouey.

A rummage sale will be held by the Auxiliary in the firemen's hall October 16. Members are asked to bring articles to the hall or to leave them with a member who lives near the hall on Friday. The Auxiliary will be glad to accept any Gold Star Mothers who might care to join them as honorary members. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Prof. Adolph M. Wasilifsky, director of the radio workshop, St. Joseph's college, will preside at a meeting of the executive committee of the Middle Atlantic region group of the Catholic Broadcasters association. The meeting is to be held on Saturday, October 16 at Newman Hall, University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Wasilifsky is chairman of the Middle Atlantic group and national director of the Catholic Broadcasters' association.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hileman, of Washington, visited over the week-end with Philip E. Hileman.

Mrs. Rose Beall, of Frederick, is spending several days with Mrs. Valerie Overman.

The Holy Name society of St. Joseph's Catholic church received Holy Communion on Sunday morning in a body. After Mass a reception into the Society was held. Two members were received, Michael Boyle and Kenneth Van Brakle. In the evening a meeting was held in the recreation room of St. Euphemia's school at which 35 members attended. It was presided over by the president, Louis H. Stoner. Rev. Michael O'Brien, spiritual director of the society, gave a talk. Reorganization of the society took place. It was decided to hold a social for the society the third Tuesday of each month. This social will consist of movies, cards and refreshments. Correspondence, refreshments and entertainment committees were appointed with the president, Louis H. Stoner, as honorary chairman of each committee. It was also decided to hold a minstrel, the date for which will be announced in the near future.

LUTHERANS NOT READY TO ENTER CHURCH COUNCIL

By BILLIE WHELOCK

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP) — The United Lutheran Church in America has gone on record against applying for membership in the proposed National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America.

However the 576 delegates to the ULCA 16th biennial convention yesterday did not close the door on eventual membership in the proposed body.

They authorized the executive board to suggest to the planning commission of the national council a conference to work out details that would eliminate objections the ULCA now has to the proposed organization's constitution.

Two Difficulties
The ULCA's decision to delay applying for membership in the council was because of dissatisfaction with the constitution.

Difficulties of two kinds appear in the constitution, the executive board of the ULCA reported: "Those involving obscurities of vocabulary or interpretation and those which clearly conflict with our church's basic principles for inter-church cooperation."

The national council, which proposes to include all protestant denominations in the United States, will hold a founding meeting in May, 1950.

Reject Budget Jump

In a vote yesterday the delegates turned down a proposal to increase the church's 1949 budget, voted at the last biennial convention in Cleveland, by $1,500,000. The boost was proposed by Ernest P. Scott, lay delegate and Cleveland businessman.

His recommendation met with immediate argument and the Rev. Henry H. Bagger of Lancaster, Pa., offered a substitute amendment asking that the 1949 budget of $3,000,000 stand.

"But," his recommendation continued, "challenge the synods to overpay their apportionment by at least the extent of their 1948 achievement."

The delegates accepted Dr. Bagger's proposal and in doing so went on record to attempt to raise more than $3,000,000 without specifying the exact amount.

The proposal by the United Lutheran group that all member organizations of the National Lutheran Council merge has met with favorable reaction from the American Lutheran church, holding its convention at Fremont, Ohio.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president of ULCA, told the delegates last night he had received word of the appointment of a committee by the

Deadly Weapon By Wade Miller

Chapter 18

It was a long office of more raw adobe, hung here and there with small Spanish tapestries. Two men sat in straight-backed chairs along the wall—a beefy American and a dapper, florid Mexican youth. Behind a carved desk at the other end of the room, an older man toyed with a salad in a wooden bowl. The older man rose.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Walter James. I have been expecting you."

"Walter James advanced to the desk and put his forefinger on it."

"You have the advantage," said Walter James.

"I am sorry," said Big Steve, inclining his head. "My name is Esteban Luz. Slender fingers gripped the proffered olive hand. The young gentleman was Esteban Luz, my son. This is Mr. Darmer, my executive manager."

The men traded nods.

"Will you sit down, Mr. James? If you will excuse me, I will continue with my luncheon."

Walter James stayed on his feet.

"I suppose Dr. Boone told you I was coming?"

"Hardly," Luz sucked in a strand of lettuce. "I had heard you had come to San Diego and were working with the police there."

"Shall we say involved instead of working?"

"Very well. Involved."

Darmer spoke weightily. "I'm sorry to hear that, James. It's safer to stay on the right side of the law."

"I've been trying," smiled Walter James.

"Did you think we could help you with your trouble?" asked the young Luz softly.

"My son means that in my years in Tijuana I have acquired a reputation as a philanthropist. Many people come to me with their needs." Luz added white teeth to his satanic features. The slim man smiled back.

"I'm hardly a charity case," he said. "But the man in Atlanta recommended you highly. He said you were an excellent source."

"Atlanta?" Luz lifted an eyebrow. "I was not aware I had any friends in Atlanta."

"It was one of my friends. And Dr. Boone has passed through Atlanta a great many times."

"Dr. Boone," considered Luz. He pushed the salad bowl aside and placed the fork in it. "It has been quite some time since we have had the pleasure of Dr. Boone's company. How long was it, John?"

Darmer said, "Quite some time."

"Yes. It must have been at least six weeks since he was last here. I hope nothing has happened to him. I doubt that anything could, however—he was such a large healthy man."

"But so hurried to do business with," said Little Steve. "That was his one and only fault."

"Perhaps his mind was uneasy," suggested Walter James.

"Not from a disturbed conscience," smiled Luz.

"It will be hard on business for a while. The Filipino's dead."

"So I have heard. So many odd bits float across the border and my foolish mind insists on retaining some of the most unrelated. The Filipino is dead. But he is not alone. There are many dead people, Mr. James."

"They've been stockpiling for years," Darmer added drily.

Luz raised a hand. "And I should note here that I cannot see the connection between the Filipino and your visit."

"I thought perhaps I could help you," said Walter James courteously. "My own woes are many and my burden is heavy, but Allah be willing, I might furnish a new contact. A less fallible contact. The mail must go through Luz."

"I still fail to see—" began the elder man.

Walter James picked up the telephone receiver. "Let me make a connection," he said flatly. He placed a call to XEGC and hummed as he waited. "Advertising, please," he asked and hummed some more. A voice crackled in the earpiece.

"This is Walter James of Southwest Advertising. I'm interested in finding which three days of the past three weeks the Devil's Bar plugs have been run. It's an all-day run, I believe, on a specified day each week. No, that's all right. You may call me back anytime on Senior Luz's private phone. Thank you."

The receiver clicked down in a deep stillness. Young Esteban Luz rose slowly. Darmer stroked the cleft in his chin.

Luz's chest moved, the only indication that he was laughing. "Very interesting," he said. "And how much further can you follow that connection?"

Walter James spread his fingers modestly. "No further—yet. I haven't been in town a week."

"I don't think you should stay in town a full week, Mr. James. Let me point out a few solid facts. I see no reason for my cooperating with you—no possible advantage. Again, I am on my side of the border; the San Diego police are on theirs. It would require virtually an act of your Congress for them to take issue with me."

"I may take issue with you." The slender man's eyes began to fade. Luz held up one finger.

"That is my point. You are not in Atlanta where you should be."

"He's right," said Darmer. "This is Tijuana, this year. This is not Atlanta in 1942, '44 or '45."

Somehow he lit it and dragged deeply.

"I'm sorry," he said. "I'm always like this afterwards. I'm all right while it's going on, but afterwards I get the shakes."

Kevin's fingers gripped his leg above the knee. He could see her hand making furrows in the cloth but he couldn't feel anything. "But they've hurt you, darling," she said.

"I can't stand to see you like this. I love you so, Walter. I can't stand to see you hurt."

"I'm not so bad off," Walter James insisted. "They won't like me at the border, but I'm still in fair shape." He ran cautious fingertips over himself. "Let's see. Three cuts in the head. Most of them are about the hairline so they won't show much. This cheek's a little beat up. And I'll need some tape on these ribs."

He put his hand under his coat and felt his back. "I'll be glad when my spine comes to life." He pulled out his hand; in it was a snub-barreled pistol.

"You had a gun?" Kevin said.

"Why didn't you use it?"

He considered. "I guess I would have if they'd really gotten rough."

SEEK DISPOSAL OF GIRL'S FUND

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 14 (AP)—Four adult friends of crippled way-haired Charlene Fisk have named her defendant in a court suit.

They seek a ruling on disposal of more than $32,000 contributed to the little six-year-old girl when she lost both arms at the shoulder in a farm accident two years ago.

Charlene fell on the blades of a horse-drawn hay mower on her father's farm near Rockford. She has since been fitted with artificial arms. She goes to school and is as active as many normal children.

Her father, Merle Fisk, paid all bills himself for her medical and surgical care. The money contributed by sympathetic donors has been held in trust since the accident.

Filing the "friendly suit" were Nina Babcock, Joseph Weingarden, David J. Johnson and William Rogers, all of nearby Sparta. They ask the court to determine how the money shall be paid to Charlene.

WINNER — Margaret Chase Smith, new U.S. senator from Maine, is first Republican woman thus honored and first woman elected without serving previously by appointment.

RECONSIDERING U.S. DECISION ON MARTINIQUE

By RUTH COWAN

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Because of military objections, the state department is giving new thought to its recently announced decision to close the U. S. Consulate in Martinique, strongly Communist French island in the Caribbean.

Department officials said privately today Martinique's listing in the September announcement was premature. The department said then that six consular posts, among them Martinique, were being closed, mainly for economy reasons.

"No final decision has been made in regard to Martinique," one official said.

He added that further meetings will be held to consider protests against padlocking the consulate on what military authorities are known to regard as a weak link in the Caribbean defenses. These guard vital U. S. shipping lanes and the Panama Canal.

Old Trouble Spot

Martinique was a World War II trouble spot and the department's unexpected "consulate-closing" announcement reverberated in the Caribbean.

Anti-Communist factions are deeply concerned over the proposed move.

This is the way one resident of Fort de France put it privately: "Why should the United States spend billions of dollars through the Marshall plan and in Turkey and Greece counteracting Communism in Europe and then decide against spending a few thousand a year for the same purpose in the western hemisphere?"

The department has countered protests against closing minor consulates elsewhere with the contention that budget cuts voted by the last congress left it no alternative.

France Department

In the 1945 general election the Communists captured 14 of the 36 seats in the general council, the island's local governing body, and the socialists won 12. The mayor of Fort de France is a Communist.

Unlike the United States' Caribbean possessions, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, Martinique is a department of France—a status equivalent to American statehood. Two of the three representatives to the French assembly in Paris are Communists.

The head of the department, however, is appointed by Paris and Trouille, the present prefect, is an anti-Communist.

SIREN—Jane Greer is dressed for role as a sophisticated siren in a historical adventure movie set in 1882.

STATE'S SPUD, TOBACCO CROPS ALSO 'BUMPER'

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—Pennsylvania's potato and tobacco crops have joined with corn in becoming bumper crops this year.

The State Agriculture Department said the potato crop set a new all-time high average yield of 185 bushels per acre. Tobacco production, meanwhile, became the second highest ever known in the state.

But apple, pear and buckwheat estimates were forced down by bad weather during September, the department said in a federal-state survey. The grape crop, however, will be better than average.

Rain Aids Plowing

Meanwhile, the department said recent heavy rainfalls ended drought conditions on Keystone State farms. The rainfall averaged more than three times the normal half inch for the state.

South and central counties reported three inches of rain in the week ended Tuesday with over four inches in the Chambersburg areas.

The department reported rains were sufficient throughout the state to permit easy plowing for winter grains according to the final federal-state weather and crop summary for the 1948 growing season.

Apple Size Off

The total potato crop estimate is now 20,165,000 bushels, an advance of 1,090,000 over Sept. 1 and more than 2,000,000 over last year grown on the same acreage.

The 1948 tobacco crop is now estimated at 61,585,000 pounds, an increase of 1,900,000 over Sept. 1. It is the largest since 1920 and 3,000,000 pounds over the 1947 crop.

The Pennsylvania corn crop of 65,320,000 bushels is the fifth largest in the state's history.

Dry weather in September prevented apples from attaining their usual size and are now at 4,746,000 bushels, 565,000 less than indicated on Sept. 1 and nearly 2,000,000 under 1947.

MP School To Be Moved To Georgia

Carlisle, Oct. 14 (AP)—December 1 is the new date set for the transfer of the military police school from Carlisle barracks to Camp Gordon, Ga.

The Army department said the move, originally planned for October 1, had been delayed in order not to interfere with training plans already made.

The MP school was set up at the historic old barracks in November, 1946. Increased enrollment and limited facilities necessitate the transfer, the Army has said.

Detroit, Oct. 14 (AP)—Carl Bolton, 39, former minor union official, was held under $75,000 bond today on a charge of trying to kill Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO-United Auto Workers.

Recorder Judge Christopher E. Stein entered a plea of innocent for Bolton after the defendant stood mute on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

BIRTH RATE FOR INDUSTRIES OFF

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The birth rate of new industries in Pennsylvania is showing a slight decline. But the trend is far from alarming; it's still hitting well over a 200 a month clip.

Figures released by the State department show that 266 new Pennsylvania industries were organized last month. This compares with 266 for the same month last year.

But even so, only eight other states had a higher industrial birth rate in September. The leaders were New York, 1,514; California, 599, and New Jersey, 408.

At the same time, a total of 39 out-of-state industries came into Pennsylvania to set up shop last month. The number for the month last year was 97, but the first six months average in 1948 at 307, showed little change from that of last year at 319.

For the first six months of this year, a total of 1,836 industries came into being in the state, as compared with 2,342 last year and 1,543 in the six month period of 1946.

On a month by month basis this year, September showed the lowest rate of new industry organization. Next lowest was August with 239 and the highest was 341 in March.

Workman Is Badly Burned At Reading

Reading, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—A 60-year-old workman was burned severely when his clothing became ignited as he threw a paint can on a dump fire at the Reading company car shops.

Company officials said that as the workman, Anthony Pizzo, threw the empty paint can on the fire the flames roared up, setting his clothes ablaze.

Pizzo was taken to Community hospital, where doctors said he was in critical condition with second degree burns of the entire body.

This handy bed jacket and handsome set of bags as easy as ABC to make! The jacket, No. 2794, can be cut from only one yard of fabric if you use contrasting scrap bag pieces for the facings. The bag set, No. 2851, includes two shoulder slung styles, a pouch bag, and a dressy heart-shaped style.

No. 2794 is cut in small, medium, and large sizes. Medium, 1 yd. 35-in.; 3/4 yd. 35-in. contrasting for facings.

No. 2851 is cut in one size. The shoulder bags require 3/4 yd. 35-in. each; pouch bag, 3/4 yd. 35-in.; heart shaped bag, 1/2 yd. 35-in.

PAIR HELD IN NEGROES' CASE

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP)—Joseph Figari, Sr., and his son, Joseph, officials of Rocky Springs Amusement park, are free in bail for a hearing November 4 on charges they denied two negroes to the park's bathroom and swimming pool on Labor Day.

The charges were filed by Edward A. Hudson, Marietta, and M. W. Richardson, Jr., Lancaster, under the state law prohibiting discrimination.

Alderman J. Edward Wetzel yesterday held Figari, park president, and his son, secretary-treasurer, after Hudson and Richardson produced two sheets of paper with names of witnesses to their alleged exclusion to the pool Sept. 6. Wetzel said.

Facilities of the park had been contracted for that day by the Lancaster county CIO council.

The elder Figari said there was a clause in the contract with the CIO which reserved to the park management the right to refuse what management considered "objectionable persons" access to the rides, amusements and concessions.

Figari also said the chlorine purification system of the pool had failed to work Labor Day afternoon and the pool had been closed. The negroes charged that other persons were using the pool at the time they attempted to enter.

APPEALS FOR MERCY

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—The state Supreme Court was asked today to save George A. Neill from the electric chair to which he was condemned for slaying his 11-year-old niece, Harry M. Berkowitz, court-appointed attorney, filed an appeal. Neill was convicted of murdering Isabelle Mallon on a lot last September 6.

ELISSA LANDI ILL

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 14 (AP)—Stage and screen actress Elissa Landi was reported in "poor" condition today at Kingston hospital. Her physician said she has been suffering from a "chronic condition" for several months, but he did not reveal its nature. She entered the hospital Sunday.

The Ferris wheel takes its name from its designer, George W. Ferris, American engineer and bridge builder.

NOTES ON USING WEED-KILLERS

Another growing season and its lessons, many of which have been learned in the somewhat costly school of experience, offer additional practical knowledge about herbicides in general and the more widely known 2,4-D in particular.

The prevalent idea that 2,4-D kills only broad-leaved plants must now be amended or qualified. Numerous lawn owners have discovered that applications of this herbicide damage such narrow-leaved grasses as the bents. In several cases entire plantings of bent grasses were destroyed by a single application of 2,4-D. Of course, there were many exceptions where users reported no harm suffered by their bent grasses. Flowering dogwood shrubs apparently are among the plants most susceptible to 2,4-D efforts. Birch trees were, in at least several outstanding instances, even more susceptible to the fumes or mist of this chemical. One authority recently warned the public that birch trees may be defoliated by 2,4-D when it is used as far as 200 yards away. Beech trees may be equally allergic to the chemical.

In one case the editor investigated the owner admitted a slight wind was blowing at the time he applied 2,4-D to kill plantain in his lawn. Several white birch trees growing over 200 feet away were badly injured. Fortunately the damage occurred rather late in the summer and the foliage loss may not prove fatal to the trees.

As mentioned earlier in the season in this column, 2,4-D should not be used in sprayers employed for applying insecticides or fungicides or ornamental plants, fruits and vegetables. Unless such equipment is washed carefully, enough of the weed-killing residue may remain to damage other plants.

Wholesale use of 2,4-D in lawns is unwise. Experience indicates it is safer to make "spot" applications to eradicate lawn weeds instead of spraying the entire area. General applications have been found to injure grass otherwise immune to the chemical's lethal effects.

All doubts have been removed from the former suggestions that a time when the air is still be chosen for applying this weed-killer. Even a slight breeze may carry the mist long distances, as already indicated, and result in severe damages to other plants.

Another troublesome factor emerged this past summer from the use of this chemical—variations in brand strengths. Several manufacturing concerns make and sell 2,4-D. The brands are not standardized. Therefore, one gardener may use a certain brand with remarkable success while his neighbor fails dismally in a similar role with another brand.

And still another reaction was noted the past summer. The chemical's effects vary greatly under different climatic and soil conditions. Temperature, humidity, soil moisture, sunshine and cloudiness, drought and rainy weather—all these and other factors more or less influence the benefits and evils from using 2,4-D. Therefore, two general statements may be deduced from the experiences of gardeners and farmers over the past year:

1. There is still no cure-all for weeds. Plows, hoes and labor remain necessary agencies in this age-old conflict of man against the original curse.

2. Growers must be guided by conservative judgment in using this and other chemical weed-killers. We must not take too literally the advertiser's claims or the enthusiasm of inexperienced writers who over-publicize products before trial-and-error methods have demonstrated their merits.

Notes On Winter Poultry Care

Damp poultry houses in late fall and winter mean poultry colds and a long train of ills in the wake of colds. Insulation plus careful ventilation are necessary safeguards against excessive dampness.

An indoor temperature around 40 to 50 degrees is the most desirable level for laying hens, providing proper ventilation is otherwise adequate.

Peat moss is the most satisfactory among poultry house litter, with oat straw second and wheat straw a close third. Tests show ground fresh corn cobs may be used where other suitable materials are lacking.

One of the main reasons why hens lay more eggs in April than they do in November is found in the fact that they usually have access to more green feed. This increases in May and the egg production rate likewise rises. Hens in winter quarters should be fed fresh green feed daily. Cabbage, kale, lettuce and other green leafy vegetables are suitable. In the absence of these first emphasis must be placed on a high grade of alfalfa leaf meal in the rations.

Vitamin A in green feed reduces the dangers of winter ills, particularly colds and other bronchial troubles. Of course, yellow corn is a good source of this vitamin, but wise poultry owners give hens plenty of green feed besides and add carrots occasionally as an extra safeguard.

Many readers have written the editor over the years expressing their gratified astonishment over results of more emphasis on green feed for winter laying hens. Their egg baskets tell the story.

A hen laying 200 eggs a year uses approximately 2½ pounds of lime making shells for those eggs. Of course, besides this calcium requirement for egg manufacturing, she must have lime to build her body tissues, particularly her bone structure. Poultry health and egg shell quality call for ground limestone or oystershell in flock rations.

Grit should not be confused with calcium. Hens should have access to a separate container of river gravel or native pebbles to supply them with grinding materials—grit.

Hens must have a 14-hour "working" day from late October until early March to afford them sufficient time each day to consume the amount of feed necessary to promote normal egg production. Therefore, electric lights are profitable investment in winter poultry management. They should be used to lengthen the day at its beginning, not in the evening.

Cod-liver oil in the laying mash adds vitamin A as well as the vital sunshine vitamin D. It is a distinct "must" in winter poultry feeding.

Intake of mash is an important factor to keep hens healthy and productive in winter. During cold periods it may be necessary to furnish a wet mash feeding around 10 o'clock each morning where lights are used to start hens working early.

Equal parts whole wheat, cracked yellow corn and heavy oats make an excellent grain feed. Bird weight is regulated by increasing or decreasing the daily grain feeding. If cracked corn is purchased, it is wise to make certain it has not been degermed. Herein is a good reason for grinding corn at home—to insure the inclusion of the nourishing germ.

GROWING EARLY GREEN ONIONS

With the possible exception of leaf varieties of lettuce started in coldframes or under muslin covers in late winter, green onions grown from fall-planted sets are the first food crop the home garden furnishes in the spring. This same fact stresses the opportunities alert gardeners may develop in supplying local markets with this first potential revenue crop.

Of course, green onions and shallots are shipped into local markets in late winter and early spring from southern gardening regions. But does anyone who has known the goodness of a freshly harvested, home-grown green onion in the spring dare claim the shipped-in onion can compete with it? Likewise do onions from the home garden fit into the family menu.

Green onions are easy to grow. They suffer from no diseases or insect attacks, as they are harvested before such dangers arrive. They are quite economical to produce because they require a minimum of tillage labor. The ground they occupy over winter is otherwise idle and they are harvested off in late spring or early summer in plenty of time to permit the growing of a follow crop. And not among the least of reasons why every gardener should grow this vegetable is the paramount fact that green onions add a healthful zest and supply valuable nutrients to the family's spring diet.

Soil should be prepared at once to permit planting the sets by the last week in October or during the first few days of November. Such preparation consists mainly of selecting a naturally deep and fertile part of the garden, preferably in a somewhat sheltered but sunny site and turning under deeply a liberal application of well decomposed and finely pulverized manure. This work should be done long enough before sets are planted to permit the worked-over soil to settle.

Commercial fertilizers are usually beneficial, although they will not correct the evils of hard or shallow soils for green onions or eradicate the dangers of poor drainage over winter. On average garden loams a fertilizer somewhere near a 5-7-10 strength should be applied and worked into the top soil at the time sets are prepared, preferably at the rate of 500 to 1,000 pounds per acre. Of course, this is not a standard formula, so growers should use a strength approximately this. Perhaps the wisest method is to apply about half the recommended quantity of fertilizer after soil is prepared and save the remainder for applying as side dressings along the rows in early spring or late winter. Many growers apply about 300 to 500 pounds per acre of a complete fertilizer when preparing soils for fall onion planting and side dress the rows early in March or even in late February with nitrate of soda.

The soil should be well pulverized and sets planted, as already suggested, in late October or early November. Each set is placed upright and soil firmed well around it. Sets should be spaced 2 to 3 inches apart in rows 14 to 18 inches wide for hand tillage and wider for motor or horse cultivation.

Some growth will develop before winter and continue during mild periods. In most cases a mulch of light straw, hay or shredded fodder may be applied after the ground is frozen. However, no mulch is necessary in most well drained soils.

In the semi-final match in the national tennis championship at Forest Hills, Jaroslav Drobny of Czechoslovakia and Richard (Pancho) Gonzalez of California scored 43 service aces between them.

POISONED CANDY USED IN SUICIDE

New Delhi, India, Oct. 14 (AP)—Four teen-age boys and girls committed suicide with poisoned candy yesterday because their parents, of different castes, forbade their marriage, a Lucknow newspaper said today.

The newspaper, the National Herald, said a third boy, a mutual friend of the two couples, also died in the love pact.

The dispatch gave these details: Two Hindu sisters, daughters of a lawyer, two male students and the third boy left their homes in Hamirpur City secretly at midnight Tuesday when the boys' and girls' parents, of different castes, refused them permission to marry.

They celebrated on the banks of the sacred Jumna river their "reunion in heaven" and then distributed poisoned sweets among themselves.

Candy and empty poison bottles were found strewn around the five bodies when early morning bathers arrived Wednesday.

The five bodies were buried side by side by the weeping parents. Hindus bury bodies of unmarried persons but cremate others.

PREDICTS FALL OF GOVERNMENT SOON IN BERLIN

Berlin, Oct. 14 (AP)—A Communist spokesman predicted last night Berlin's central government, last link between the Eastern and Western sectors of the divided city, would fall to pieces soon.

The spokesman, Karl Maron, made this prediction a few hours after a clash between Communists and non-Communists of the city's magistrat (executive department).

A Communist official who was fired by the city government last week attended a session in the meeting hall yesterday. The hall is in the Soviet sector. When the official, Waldemar Schmidt, chief of the city labor department, refused to leave, the non-Communist members walked out and resumed their meeting in a British sector building. Schmidt and two other Communist magistrat members remained in the Soviet sector hall.

Air Lift Resumes
Later, Maron asserted: "The complete split-up of the Berlin City government will in all probability follow."

The city's assembly, or legislative council, already has split up. The anti-Communist members now meet in the British sector, where the Communist members refuse to join them.

The British-American airlift resumed operations at mid-morning today after an interruption of about seven hours because of fog.

Walter Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Moscow, has decided to remain in Berlin another day in his trip back from Paris. He is expected to leave here early tomorrow.

The clearing weather also brought another Soviet announcement of gunnery drills in the air corridor. The Soviets posted warning of ground-to-air drills in the Bueckeburg corridor and air-to-air firing in the Hamburg corridor.

Amos Yoder, Jonas Petersheim, Menno Brenneman and Enos Mast, were released from jail after serving 12 days on similar charges. When their children—15 and 16 years old—did not appear at the Elk Lick township school Monday or Tuesday, they were given a new hearing Tuesday night.

The Amish defendants contended high school is a waste of time for boys and girls needed at home for farm and house work. They belong to a strict old-world religious sect.

U. S. Commanders In Pacific And Alaska End "Top Secret" Meetings In Tokyo

STUDY MEANS TO AVOID NEW PEARL HARBOR

By FRANK L. WHITE

Tokyo, Oct. 14 (AP) — American commanders in the Pacific and Alaska discussed measures to prevent another Pearl Harbor in a series of top secret conferences with General Douglas MacArthur ending today.

They met within view of Japan's Imperial Palace grounds — just across the moat from the big white building housing allied headquarters — where the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on the U. S. Pacific fleet received final sanction.

Informal sources confined information on the talks to two points:

1. The American commanders discussed with General MacArthur practical precautions against the possibility of another surprise attack.

2. The high-ranking officers attained a "fine spirit of cooperation and coordination" among the Army, Navy and Airforce. This was described as an outstanding achievement.

Broad Area Covered

Sources reviewing the conferences made no reference to the first mid-winter amphibious landing attack exercise in the far north. It will be held next February in "the Alaska area," Pacific fleet headquarters, announced yesterday.

The three commanders represented a vast defense area broadened by the war. General MacArthur commands all land, sea and air units operating from northern Japan southward in a wide-swinging arc with an outer line running through Korea, China, the Philippines and back eastward to American Samoa south of the equator.

To the northeast, beyond MacArthur's theater lies the Alaska defenses — represented at the parley by Airforce Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining — and the joint American-Canadian defense line. Beyond the left flank are the joint Pacific defenses of two U. S. allies in World War II — the Netherlands and British Commonwealth.

Behind the outer line of defense lies the might of the U. S. Navy. The Navy representative AAS Vice Admiral J. L. McCrea, deputy commander of the Pacific fleet.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 14 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, campaigning through Oklahoma, after being splattered by tomatoes in Illinois Wed. asserted that the U. S. "in the interest of our national security" must increase its potential oil producing capacity.

"Because of our present needs," the New York governor said in a prepared speech, "we have no reserve productive capacity today to help cushion the shock of any emergency."

Ancient Autos To Try Hill Climbing

Reading, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP) — A group of motorists, led by M. J. Duryea of Long Meadow, Mass., arrived here last night in the antique automobiles they are driving over the historic Glidden tour route.

The ancient cars came here from Bedford Springs, Pa., after traveling to Bedford Springs from Devon near Philadelphia over the route used in the original Glidden tour of 1908.

Duryea, president of the Antique Automobile Association of America, is the son of Charles E. Duryea, inventor of one of the first gasoline powered automobiles in America.

While in Reading, the touring motorists, clad in the linen dusters and goggles of the early 1900's, will compete in a hill climbing contest.

NEW MOVE IN TUITION CASE

Middletown, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP) — A Middletown merchant put up $69.59 to see the return to school today of 12 more children from government-owned Pineford Acres.

A. S. Light paid the money to the Middletown school district to cover special tuition charges imposed on parents who reside in nearby housing project owned by the air force.

The school district recently ruled that parents on the project — they are not subject to local school taxes — must pay tuition for their children whose parents are government employees.

But another 50 families, not government employees, plan to start court action demanding that they be permitted to pay the school tax instead of the more costly tuition.

Last week, Harold V. McNair, Middletown chief burgess, paid the October tuition for 17 students who

RITES HELD FOR COLIN KELLY, 1ST HERO IN PACIFIC

Madison, Fla., Oct. 14 (AP) — Capt. Colin Kelly, hailed seven years ago as the first hero of the war in the Pacific, lies buried today amid the scenes of his boyhood at this small north Florida town.

Full military honors marked last rites yesterday for the young flier killed when his plane crashed soon after he had bombed the Japanese battleship Haruna. At Kelly's command, the crew members parachuted to safety.

Kelly's death won him personal praise from President Roosevelt, and he was posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Among the hundreds of mourners at the graveside service were Kelly's parents, his young widow who has since remarried, and his eight-year-old son, Colin III.

The flag which draped the coffin was presented the son by Capt. William E. Prantz of the 14th Air force.

"It's a small token of appreciation from a very grateful nation for the supreme sacrifice of your father," Prantz said to young Colin.

Colin, nicknamed "Corky" by his family, was recommended for a West Point appointment in 1956 by President Roosevelt.

Wants To Be Flier

The recommendation was made by the President a week after Kelly's death. In a letter to whoever is President of the United States in 1956, Roosevelt said: "My request is that you consider the merits of a young American of goodly heritage

NEW GADGETS FOR HOME OUT

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Hundreds of new developments in the hardware line, ranging from improved mousetraps to power snowblows were shown to the trade for the first time today at the opening of the National Hardware Show.

Hardware buyers from throughout the U. S. and 17 foreign countries were registered for the exhibition where some 24,000 products will be displayed through Saturday.

Much research now being done by large building hardware concerns is aimed at cutting down the cost of installation in new homes, William C. Habbersett, vice president of the Reading (Pa.) Hardware Corp., said.

New Door Latch

As an example, he demonstrated a new tubular front-door latch which requires only two simple holes to be cut into the door.

His company also is showing a new hand lawn mower with a tool steel blade so flexible, he said, "You can run into sticks and dog bones in the grass all day without nicking your blade or stopping to adjust it again."

Also shown for the first time is a new type circulator to ward off frost in large orchards and gardens. Produced by the Norhow manufacturing Co. of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., it burns almost any petroleum fuel the farmer may have on hand—gasoline, kerosene, fuel oil, or even old crank case oil—without adjustment.

One entire floor of the four-floor exposition is devoted to fishing and hunting items. The makers of fish-

'GRAY MARKET' STEEL PROFITS ARE REPORTED

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—A congressional group called upon the steel industry today to adopt a specific program aimed at combatting gray markets that now "reap fantastic profits."

The House committee investigating questionable trade practices disclosed at the same time that it has turned over to the Internal Revenue its files showing the profits of persons and firms taking "unscrupulous advantage" of the steel shortage.

The committee issued a formal report saying that 10 to 12 per cent of the nation's total strip and sheet steel production is moving into gray market channels, while the profits of these roundly criticized but not illegal operators mount into millions.

Three Suggestions

The committee opposed any federal controls but urged the steel industry to tighten-up on a voluntary, industry-sponsored program "calculated to encourage free and competitive enterprise."

1. That all steel producers contribute to the formation of an independent organization to conduct impartial investigations and make reports to the industry.

2. That orders for steel be accepted only with the proviso that any diversion or unauthorized resale could result in cancellation of the orders.

3. That mills quit trading steel to scrap dealers because "in every case of this nature investigated" it was found that the finished product was going into gray markets at premium prices.

ALPHONSE and GASTON

Get a DU PONT ANTI-FREEZE today!

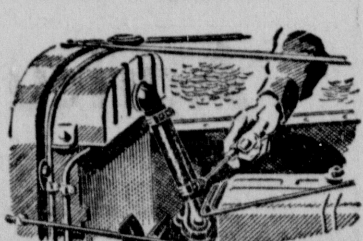

Why it's wise to have your serviceman inspect the cooling system before putting in anti-freeze.

YOU BUY anti-freeze to protect your motor from a freeze-up and to help it run more efficiently by keeping the cooling system free from rust. If anti-freeze leaks out, what have you got? NO protection... maybe a ruined engine block. Heavy expense, your car laid up. (And you've lost your anti-freeze.)

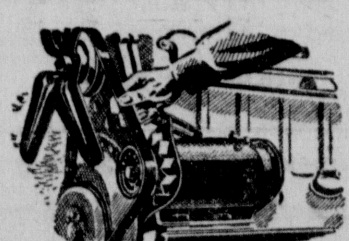

So, before installing anti-freeze, have the cooling system gone over. No repairs may be needed—but even a simple inspection is worth what it may cost. Here's what a cooling system inspection should include:

1. INSPECT RADIATOR—If it's rusted, clogged, it should be drained and cleaned. (Du Pont Cooling System Cleanser is one of the best for the job.)

2. CHECK FOR LEAKS—Radiator hose, clamps, pump, and cylinder head bolts should be tight. Your serviceman has tools and know-how to make repairs.

3. CHECK FAN, BELT AND HEATER—Slipping belts should be adjusted—replaced if worn. Heater hoses should drain properly and not trap air.

4. PUT IN ANTI-FREEZE—A "Zerone" or "Zerex" chart shows amount needed. Radiator tag identifies anti-freeze, warns against draining. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

Here's one foot of large telephone cable, actual size. Inside are 4,242 wires.

About 7,000,000 feet of cable of various sizes have been added since V-J day to improve and expand telephone service in this state. And more are being added every day.

This is only a small part of a tremendous program of construction now well under way. The program is costing millions of dollars.

All this construction money comes from investors—people who have faith in the future of the Telephone Company. They entrust their money to us because they believe their investments will be safe and will pay them a fair return.

Even in normal times, the huge sums needed for new construction must come from investors. On the other hand, the money you pay for telephone service goes to meet everyday expenses—wages, materials and other operating costs.

Today, these expenses are at the highest peak in our history.

REICH RECOVERY HAS IMPORTANT ROLE IN PEACE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Back in the late war—the second world conflict started by Germany in a generation—the Allies swore a mighty oath they would so thoroughly smash the Reich that never again would it be able to wage aggression.

Naturally destruction of the German war potential involved the wiping out of all arsenals and factories capable of material contribution to armaments.

It wasn't foreseen, of course, that the conflict was going to be followed by another struggle among the Allies themselves—the "cold war" which shortly grew out of Communist aggression. So in the flush of victory over Hitlerism the Allies made agreements which not only emasculated Germany's military potential but cut heavily into the ordinary industrial potential.

Disturbing Thought

When the Bolshevik drive against Western Europe got into full swing it became apparent that defense depended on economic recovery of the war-stricken countries. The corollary to this was the Marshall Plan for rehabilitation. This plan has become the target of the Bolsheviks.

Along with this development has come a far more widespread realization that before the world war Germany was one of the keystones of European economy. It is clear that general rehabilitation depends heavily on German recovery.

This is a very disturbing thought for countries like France, Britain and Belgium, which twice have stood the brunt of the Reich's initial onslaughts. Unhappy France in particular has been fearful of putting the Germans on their feet again industrially.

Important Problem

However, a remarkable and vastly important change has come about very recently in the viewpoint of the Western European countries. And yesterday it appeared that both France and Britain were prepared to halt the dismantling of important German plants pending a re-

Duff Warns About Over-Confidence

Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP) — Republicans must guard against overconfidence in the current election campaign, says Gov. James H. Duff.

"The better team is often defeated by overconfidence," he said at a meeting here yesterday of the north Central Regional Conference of Republican Women.

But the governor added that Republicans should remain confident enough of the results they have set out to achieve.

Rep. Robert F. Rich (R-Pa.) lauded 500 delegates attending the session for what he termed "the magnificent job they have done for the party." He predicted their efforts may result in the "greatest state delegation" in congress in many years.

Fosston, Minn., Oct. 14 (AP)—The hero of the ice cream soda set in this tiny Minnesota town today was Walter Morgan, 76, who may be the oldest man ever to make a parachute jump.

Morgan achieved what he described as a lifetime ambition when he jumped Monday from 10,000 feet. His wife and children were in the crowd of 2,000 — 600 more than the town's entire population — that left the shops and offices of Fosston to watch him jump.

view of the part which the Reich can play in European economic recovery.

It isn't going too far, I believe, to say that world peace will depend heavily on how this problem is handled. The Western Democracies may find it possible to meet Moscow's threat by putting Germany on its feet—always, of course, with proper safeguards against the re-creation of a strong war potential in the Reich.

STATE CHAMBER NOT BACKING PA. SALES TAX

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce sought to quickly dispose of any criticism that it may be supporting a state sales or personal income tax.

"The State Chamber has no official policy in support of either of these taxes," the business organization said.

The statement followed a storm of criticism on an interpretation of the Chamber's 32-page tax report last week. Among other things, it suggested that the 1949 legislature and its tax study groups "consider the possible early need for some type of broad-based tax."

The report also noted that Pennsylvania is one of only eight states not now collecting such broad-based levies as "personal income or sales taxes."

No Recommendation

In its new statement, the Chamber said it "desires to make clear that its recent tax report and the accompanying news releases, issued last week, did not recommend either a state sales tax or personal tax in Pennsylvania."

The suggestion for a broad-based

News Briefs

Chicago, Oct. 14 (AP)—Henry Wallace—spattered by eggs and shouted down by hecklers at some meetings on his recent campaign swing through southeastern states—is going to Georgia.

The progressive party announced Tuesday that its presidential candidate will fly to Dalton, Ga., on Saturday, Oct. 16. There he will address between 800 and 900 preachers at a national meeting of the Church of God.

Seoul, Tuesday, Oct. 14 (AP)—A train crash that killed 36 American soldiers September 14 resulted from failure of trainmen to comply with three regulations, an American Board of Investigators reported on Tuesday.

Home Minister T. Y. Yoon recently attributed the rear-end collision 75 miles south of here to a Korean Communist plot, intended to discredit the new government in American-occupied South Korea.

tax was in the light "of possible state revenue requirements," the Chamber said, adding: "The report did not hazard a guess as to whether such a tax might be needed in 1949." The Chamber's reported stand had drawn sharp opposition from the Philadelphia Merchants association and the Pennsylvania Retailers association. Both opposed any sales taxes.

MINE TIMBER SUPPLY CUT

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 14 (AP) — A shutdown of the anthracite industry may result from the decision of regional timbermen to halt cutting and supplying mine timbers until price increases are granted, an industrial spokesman said.

Timbermen and their employees announced yesterday after a meeting in nearby Dupont that mine owners and timber brokers have ignored their demand for a price increase.

Charles Dolph, secretary of the men's association, said yesterday it was impossible to grant pay increases unless the mine owners and timber brokers agree to an increase in price.

About 700 employees, members of local 741, United Construction Workers of District 50, United Mine Workers, decided yesterday to stop cutting timber, the spokesman said.

President A. O. Weitz of the Timber and Lumbermen's association, said truckers who haul timber to the mines will remain idle. He added representatives of 460 members of the association are picketing mines in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties.

Weitz said the association members are paid $7 a ton for mine props and want $12. Other increases asked he said are: mine sprags from $45

Murder Trial Of Boy In 4th Day

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 14 (AP)—The trial of 18-year-old Franklin Lindemuth, charged with the murder of a young nurse, entered its fourth day today.

Yesterday's testimony brought statements from two witnesses that they had seen the nurse, Miss Lucille Ramirez, Modesto, Calif., at the La Fonda cottages in Albuquerque the night of July 22. They also said they had seen Lindemuth at the same address several times while Miss Ramirez' brother Luis lived there. Lindemuth is from Harrisburg, Pa.

The dead nurse's roommate at Modesto, Miss Laurie Louise Verner, earlier testified that Miss Ramirez left the California town by plane to $70 a thousand; lagging from $7 to $14 and flats from $14 to $25.

Mrs. Ida Silva, one of the operators of the tourist court, and Mrs. Lula Herrera, her sister, both said they saw an attractive Spanish girl whom they believed to be Miss Ramirez at the court on July 22.

MERIT RAISES INVOLVE MANY NEW QUESTIONS

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Can an employer grant a merit raise to an employee without consent of the union representing his workers?

There may be confusion over that question because of action on it by the U. S. Supreme Court this week. This will explain what can and can't be done under government law. The information here is from the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

To understand it, go back a bit. A company in Tennessee had been giving a contract every year with a union of its employees. The contract covered rates of pay.

Con. any Refused? But the company—in addition to the regular, agreed-upon pay rate given all the employees—gave some of them higher pay in the form of merit raises.

In 1946, when it came time to bargain with the employer about a new contract, the union said: It wanted to bargain not only about the regular pay scale but also about any merit raises the employer might wish to give to some of the employees.

The company refused to bargain. It said the law covered regular rates of pay but did not cover merit raises. The union then complained to the NLRB that the employer was unfair.

The NLRB said the boss was wrong. It said merit raises are wages and an employer must bargain about them.

Review Refused

In this case the company thought the NLRB was wrong and appealed to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals to overrule the NLRB. But the court upheld the NLRB.

The company then took its last step and appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court to overrule the Circuit Court and the NLRB. This week the Supreme Court refused to review—or consider changing—the Circuit Court's ruling.

But at this point other questions arise. This is a roundup of questions and answers, with the answers given by the NLRB.

Q. Can an employer now continue to grant merit increases to his employees if he doesn't have anything about that in his union contract?

A. Yes. Unless an employer has a contract covering merit raises or unless the union wants to bargain about them, he can continue to grant merit increases.

Q. But what of a case where an employer bargains with a union over merit raises and the bargaining breaks down? Can he then, with the bargaining suspended, go ahead and grant merit increases?

All Are Affected

A. Yes, provided he doesn't do it to try to smash the union by winning workers away from it. Of course, if he did grant merit raises after bargaining broke down, the union might complain to the NLRB that he was doing it to break the union.

Q. Suppose a union represents only a majority of the employees in a place, say only 51 out of 100. Can an employer give the non-union workers merit raises?

A. Yes, just as he's free to give his union workers raises—provided he has no union contract covering merit raises. But once he signs such a contract, anything in that contract that applies to his union workers applies to his non-union workers, too. Why?

Because when a union represents only a majority of workers in a plant, its bargaining covers all the employees, union and non-union alike.

HELD IN WIFE'S KNIFE SLAYING

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—An Altoona man, wanted for questioning in the knife slaying of his estranged wife at Huntingdon, Pa., was picked up by police here today, Chief of Police Oscar Blough reported.

Blough identified the man as Virgil Banks, 47, a negro, and said he was being held for Huntingdon county authorities. At Huntingdon, Chief of Police William Smucker said Banks' wife Charlotte, 44, identified her husband as her assailant before her death.

The woman was stabbed nine times at her home last night in what Smucker said was an argument about a reconciliation between the couple after a six-month estrangement.

Smucker said neighbors, attracted by the woman's moans as she ran into the yard, heard her say: "Virgy did it."

The police chief added that police were called to the home and, meanwhile, Banks disappeared temporarily only to show up within a half hour at the police station, apparently to surrender and unaware that his wife died.

"All of us were at the Banks home when he appeared," Smucker said. "Some hanger-on told him that his wife was dead and apparently the man changed his mind about turning himself in."

Banks came to Huntingdon Tuesday to try for reconciliation and stayed overnight at the home where Mrs. Banks lived with her mother, Mrs. Anna Mary Lewis, said Smucker. He had been employed as a laborer in the construction of a U. S. Veterans hospital at Altoona.

Parents Appeal For Help With Search

Fanwood, N. J., Oct. 14 (AP)—The parents of flight-Leut. Frank Linder, Jr., lost on a flight last week, have appealed to Pennsylvania hunters, Boy Scouts and Civil Air patrols to search for their son.

The parents said last night that the 19-year old pilot was an Eagle Scout and was capable of taking care of himself for long periods if lost in the woods.

Air rescue squadrons have searched the area along his scheduled route from Selfridge field, Mich., to Fort Dix, but have turned up no clues. The parents said they had asked the civilian groups to search off their son's flight route.

DEVELOP OIL FIELDS

Philadelphia, Oct. 14 (AP)—About $22,000,000 is being spent this year by the Sun Oil company to develop new oil fields. In addition, President Robert G. Dunlop reported yesterday, Sun is putting out approximately $48,000,000 "for new or improved equipment in the old fields, refineries, marine and other transportation operations and in marketing facilities."

BITTER BATTLE RAGES OVER 33 CONGRESSIONAL SEATS FROM PA.

By MARTIN BRACKBILL

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—A bitter struggle for control of Pennsylvania's 33-member congressional delegation is raging in the shadow of the critical 1948 presidential campaign.

Both Republican and Democratic organizations are making all-out drives to retain the seats they have and capture those held by the opposition.

With the present line-up at 28 Republicans and five Democrats, both sides claim they will make good their aims on election day, Nov. 2.

"I see only the possibility of losing one seat from the most pessimistic viewpoint," declared one GOP leader privately. "And that will be balanced off, if it should happen, by winning two or three seats now held by Democrats."

Hope To Gain Five

On the other hand, a Democratic source, also declining identification, said his party should pick up a minimum of five seats now held by Republicans and possibly four or five more.

"I can't see how we can lose any of the seats we now have," he added.

Neither source indicated the districts they had in mind.

The closest fights, Democratic sources indicated, were developing in Philadelphia's second district, in Lackawanna, Berks and Allegheny counties, where Democrats, aided by labor committees, are making the stand of Republican incumbents for the Taft-Hartley labor law the issue. All the big labor organizations' supporters.

Littlestown

Littlestown—Mrs. William J. Yingling and Mrs. Leonard L. Potter, co-chairmen of the ticket committee for the benefit concert which the Littlestown members of the Warner hospital auxiliary will present on Friday night in the Littlestown high auditorium, request that all members of the committee having tickets left over are to turn them over to either of the chairmen or bring them to the high school on Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Edward Harner, vice president, was in charge of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Centenary Methodist church which was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Samuel Bucke, North Queen street. The pastor, the Rev. Grantas E. Hoopert, was in charge of the devotion. Mrs. Bucke played several selections on the melodeon. A Halloween party will be held in connection with the next meeting on Tuesday, November 2 at the home of Mrs. Charles Wulfert, Littlestown R. 2. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Rehearsals have started for the in the state have denounced the measure.

Twenty-three of the Republican congressmen seeking re-election voted in the labor law, while the remainder of the GOP candidates were not in congress when it was adopted. All five Democrats voted against the controversial measure.

A Republican source, however, insisted the labor drives "will not lose us any votes. Instead we feel the Taft-Hartley law is going to help us. The public told the 80th congress to pass it because of the labor strife." Democratic sources, however, pointed to John L. Lewis' instructions to district presidents of the United Mine Workers to declare a mine holiday on election day so miners can vote against the labor law's supporters.

Senior play to be presented in the Littlestown high school auditorium on Friday, November 5. The play will be a three-act comedy by Pete Williams entitled, "The Old School Spirit." Miss LeOra Held is directing the play and the rehearsals are being held Monday through Thursday nights of each week from 7 to 9 p. m.

Mrs. John R. Byers, East King street, was hostess to the Mite society of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Myers also conducted the devotion. Mrs. Emma Norwood, president, presided and Mrs. Paul Schelvert, presented the secretary's report. A committee was appointed to look after some necessary repairs which will be made at the parsonage. The committee consists of Mrs. Raymond Kump and Mrs. Emma Norwood. There were two readings: "Are You An Active Member?" by Mrs. George Mayers, and "How Have We Strayed?" by Mrs. Emma Norwood. The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 2, at the home of Mrs. John M. Fesser, East King street.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Harner and son, Clyde, and daughter, Mildred, have returned home after a visit of several days in Holyoke, Mass. They were accompanied there by Mrs. Harner's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Gordon and son, Dennis, who returned to their home in Holyoke, after spending a two weeks' vacation with friends and relatives in this vicinity.

CHAMBERSBURG WILL IMPROVE DISPOSAL PLANT

Harrisburg, Oct. 14 (AP)—The Sanitary Water board said today Chambersburg borough is voluntarily planning an expansion of its sewage treatment works to alleviate pollution of Conococheague creek.

P. B. Milligan, board industrial engineer, said the borough is now drafting plans for a high degree treatment plant which will also handle wastes from the H. J. Heinz cannery in the community.

"We expect to receive the plans shortly," Milligan said.

The Health department engineer made the comment in the connection with an investigation into a complaint from the United States Paper mill near Chambersburg that its operations had to be curtailed due to wastes in the creek.

Danger Of Explosion
The paper mill said it was necessary to shut down its boiler due to heavy frothing of water and the resulting danger of an explosion.

The company also said there was a pink tint in the water. Milligan said "we can't point the finger to anyone" in connection with the pollution.

"There was nothing unusual about the wastes from the cannery except that the extreme low water might have brought it to an acute point," he told a reporter.

He added that the new borough plant will probably overcome the situation and that if it doesn't, under board policy, "further treatment" would be ordered.

Rep. Johnson To Be On Herald Forum

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) announced today he will take part in the New York Herald-Tribune's annual radio forum October 20.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican Presidential candidate, will make the concluding talk in the discussion in which Johnson will have a part and Senator J. Howard McGrath (D-R. I.), National Democratic chairman, will speak in lieu of President Truman.

Johnson said the panel in which he will participate will discuss "goals for leadership in the international crisis." Others taking part will be John McCoy, head of the World bank; George Keenan of the State department; Mrs. Dorothy Lee, Mayor-elect of Portland, Ore.; and Rep. Fulton (R.-Pa.).

FARMER FEARS OF PRICE DROP MAY HIT SUPPLY

By OVID A. MARTIN (Associated Press Farm Reporter)

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP) — Government forecasts of a boost in meat supplies—and lower prices—by late 1949 may be over-optimistic.

Made chiefly by the agriculture department, these predictions have been based largely on the fact that, at the moment, the relationship between feed prices and livestock prices is very favorable for producing meat animals.

This year's record grain crop has pulled down costs of feed, while livestock prices have remained relatively high.

Fear Price Drop

But reports from the corn belt, where the bulk of the nation's meat supply comes from, indicate that farmers are not jumping in to expand livestock production as much as the department had expected.

These reports say many farmers fear that prices may drop sharply by the time new meat animals can be produced, fattened and marketed.

This view was expressed by Carl C. Malone, Iowa State College economist, before an agriculture department farm outlook conference here this week. He was supported by several economists from other western corn belt states.

Won't Meet Goal

Malone, somewhat to the surprise of department officials, said he does not believe farmers will meet the government's goal of a 60,000,000-head 1949 spring pig crop. Such a goal must be met if there is to be a big jump in pork supplies next year. It compares with this year's spring crop of 51,000,000.

Malone said many farmers in Iowa — the major corn-hog state — prefer to put this corn under government price support loans and thereby escape any risk that might be involved in feeding the grain to livestock.

Heavy Hog Marketing

The department itself reported similar skepticism among corn belt cattle feeders in a report yesterday. It said the volume of beef cattle to be fed in the corn belt this winter may not be greatly different from a year ago because of a "cautious attitude among farmers and financing agencies."

The "uncertainty of future prices" of beef cattle was said to be the

NEGRESS DIES TUES. AT 110

Whiteford, Md., Oct. 14 (AP)—"Old Mac" Frisby, who said that her daily gallon and a half of water was the secret of her longevity, is dead. As close as can be figured, the negress was 110.

She had lived on Michael's Beginning—a 159-acre farm belonging to the Whiteford family—since Michael Whiteford, grandfather of the present owner, brought her there in the mid-1850's from the Hartford county almshouse. He said she was 16 at the time.

She had "brought up" succeeding generations of the family.

Edwin Warfield Whiteford, present owner of the farm was at her bedside when old Mac "just slept away about 2 p. m. Tuesday."

Six white pallbearers—friends and neighbors—will carry her coffin Friday. Burial will be in the Whiteford plot in Slate Ridge cemetery, near here.

Up until two weeks ago, when she became ill, she would putter about the farm.

First signs that she was fading away came during the summer, when she gave up her long-standing habit of drinking a quart of water when she got up, a gallon during the day and another quart when she went to bed.

A red salmon, marked by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries in Alaskan waters in May, and caught 44 days later in a Siberian stream, was found to

NEWKIRK DOUBLE DISCS

Carload just arrived. A few of them are still available from this shipment, sizes 6 ft., 6.9 ft., 7.6 ft. and 8.3 ft., all 22-inch discs. One of the largest fruit growers in Adams county is now using these Newkirk harrows and he is well pleased with their work.

Quite a number of farmers in the Hanover area are using this same disc harrow with very satisfactory results.

The Newkirk has more features than any other disc on the market. This, we expect, will be our last shipment this year due to the steel shortage. Order now!
